EURO2024 GERMANY

NATIONAL INTEREST: GERMANY PRIMED FOR BIG EURO KICK-OFF

The three-time champions look to shake-off their listless recent tournament performances as the doors open for 2024 edition of Euros. A look

FRANCE, PORTUGAL START AS FAVOURITES

Thanks to their depth, France, 2018 World Cup champions and 2022 runners-up, begin as favourites. The side is stacked with world-class performers, including Kylian Mbappe. Portugal, which is having a Golden Generation of sorts, rivals France in terms of squad depth. Can Cristiano Ronaldo, fresh of an underwhelming season in Saudi, win a second Euro?

HOLDERS ITALY IN THE GROUP OF DEATH

- After failing to advance to the last WC, Italy, the defending European champs, enjoyed a serene qualifying campaign. However, they find themselves in a challenging group with Spain, Albania and Croatia
- Other teams that have a chance include England, who can lay claim to having the best players of Premier League, Bundesliga and La Liga

NEET grace marks axed, retest offered

Those who take fresh exam on June 23 will lose their pre-compensatory score, govt tells Supreme Court

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday cancelled the grace marks awarded to 1,563 students who took the NEET-UG entrance exam for medical courses following a national uproar and gave them the option of taking a retest on June 23. Those who take the retest will lose their pre-grace marks; those who don't will get to retain their score minus the compensatory marks.

The decision came after a four-member panel examined the controversy and suggested remedial measures to allay the fears of the students, the government told the Supreme Court.

The committee was of the view that the award of grace marks on grounds of loss of time while taking the test resulted in a skewed situation as it had to be limited to the questions that remained un-attempted.

The National Testing Agency (NTA) had earlier granted compensatory marks to students in six centres who had complained of loss of time. It created a furore amid allegations of paper leaks and other malpractices in some places.

A vacation bench comprising justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta termed the NTA's decision fairly reasonable and refused to stall the counselling for NEET-UG, scheduled to commence from July 6.

They, however, said all the admissions will be subject to the outcome of the petitions that sought cancellation of the exam held on May 5 on the grounds of question paper leak and other malpractices.

The bench also said it cannot expand the scope of the Centre's decision to those students who had not approached the court yet.

Advocate Kanu Agrawal, appearing for the Centre, said the retest results will be out on June 30, so those candidates too can appear for counselling.

When the NEET-UG result was declared on June 4, as many as 67 students had a perfect score of 720. Thursday's decision brought down that number to 61.

The court ordered the NTA to file its reply by July 8 on the allegations of malpractices adopted by some students who took the NEET-UG exam. Around 24 lakh candidates took the exam. Its result was expected on June 14 but was announced on June 4.

NO CONCRETE EVIDENCE OF RIGGING: PRADHAN

"No concrete evidence of any kind of rigging, corruption or paper leak has been found so far in the NEET. The kind of politics being done on this issue is only an attempt to spread confusion and it affects the mental peace of the students," Union education minister Drarmendra Pradhan said | P7

POCSO case: Spl court issues NBW against BSY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE special court to try cases registered under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act issued a non-bailable warrant (NBW) against former chief minister and senior BJP leader BS Yediyurappa on Thursday.

Judge NM Ramesh passed the order after hearing an application filed by the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) probing a POCSO case registered against Yediyurappa. In the application, the CID stated that Yediyurappa did not appear for an inquiry despite its notice.

Sadashivanagar police booked Yediyurappa under Section 8 of the POCSO Act and Section 354A of the IPC based on a complaint filed on March 14, 2024, by the mother of a 17-year-old girl.

In the complaint, she alleged that Yediyurappa sexually assaulted her daughter on February 2, 2024, at his house in Dollars Colony in the city.

Before issuing the warrant, the court noted that the police had issued the notice to the accused under Section 41(A) of CrPC, stating that there was no need for his arrest. The court questioned the prosecution why police were seeking issuance of NBW now after keeping mum all these days. CONTINUED ON: P4

HC to hear Yediyurappa's pleas today

Former CM Yediyurappa filed two petitions before the high court in the POCSO case. In one petition, he sought quashing the FIR against him under the provisions of the IPC and POCSO Act. In another, he appealed to the court to grant him anticipatory bail. Both petitions will come up for hearing on Friday.

Previously, the Home Minister @DrParameshwara himself had stated that the complaint from the mentally unstable woman was malicious and without merit. It is absurd that the case is being revived after three months. Why is the government focusing on Shri Yeddyurappa ji's only, among 53 complaints filed by the woman, including against her own children and husband? Why plot a sudden arrest three months after the complaint was filed? If Congress leaders in Delhi succumb to such vile, vindictive politics and target Shri Yeddyurappa ji, there is no doubt that Congress will be thrown out of Karnataka (sic)

Contaminated water kills six in Tumakuru village

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

UNEASY calm prevails at Chinnenahalli in Madhugiri taluk where six people, including an infant, died after drinking contaminated water in the past four days. Chikkadasappa, 76, and Peddanna, 74, died on Wednesday night at the district general hospital in Tumakuru. Ten people are being treated in ICUs and three children in general wards.

Over 50 people fell ill on June 10 after attending the annual village fair which began on June 9. Hanumakka, 85, died on June 10. On June 11, Nagamma, 89, Nagappa, 85, and Meenakshi, 3, daughter of Manjunath and Jayalakshmi, died. District in-charge minister Dr G Parameshwara visited the hospital on Thursday. He instructed DC Subha Kalyan to provide safe drinking water to the people of Chinnenahalli.

Local MLA KN Rajanna alleged that despite several warnings, the local officials did not get the overhead tank in the village cleaned. The tank has not been cleaned for more than 10 years and this led to water contamination, according to sources. In-charge panchayat development officer BV Muniraju and waterman S Nagaraju have been suspended in this connection.

DARSHAN CASE

Cops put 'view cutter' around police station

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE police covering the Annapoorneshwari Nagar station, where actor Darshan and others arrested in a murder case are being interrogated, with tent cloth has raised many eyebrows.

This became a hot topic of discussion in various quarters on Thursday as it was never heard of or seen before.

The station was covered with tent cloth a day after city police commissioner B Dayananda visited it. This is said to have been done to avoid media and public glare as some visuals from inside went viral.

Although police stations should be kept open 24 hours, the gates of this one were locked on Thursday morning. The police have also barricaded the road to the station. On Wednesday, police resorted to a mild lathicharge to disperse people who had gathered in front of the station to have a glimpse of their favourite star. In view of such developments, the officers decided to cover the front portion of the station with tent cloth, according to sources.

Meanwhile, prohibitory orders under Section 144 of the CrPC have been imposed within a radius of 200 metres from the station. The prohibitory orders will be in force till Monday to prevent people from gathering, protesting, sitting and marching to the station. The police custody of all the accused will end on Monday.

"The visuals telecast by news channels impeded investigations. Seeing mediapersons outside the police station, people may gather there assuming that Darshan may come out. This case is demanding in terms of efforts, forethought and volume," a senior police officer said. CONTINUED ON: P3

DOVAL GETS 3rd TERM AS NSA, MISHRA TOO STAYS

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

SPYMASTER Ajit Doval was reappointed National Security Advisor (NSA) for a third consecutive term and so was bureaucrat P K Mishra as the principal secretary to the prime minister with effect from June 10, the government said on Thursday.

Their terms will be co-terminus with that of Prime Minister Narendra Modi or until further orders, whichever is earlier, a government statement said. Both will continue to hold the rank of cabinet minister in the table of precedence.

They accompany Modi whenever he goes abroad, like he did on Thursday for the Group of Seven summit in Italy. The appointments indicate the PM's trust in these top officers.

After retirement as Intelligence Bureau director in 2005, Doval founded the Vivekananda International Foundation, a public policy thinktank. He worked with the IB for more than 33 years in different roles and in areas like the Northeast, Jammu and Kashmir, and Punjab.

Modi picked him as the country's fifth NSA in 2014. During his first tenure, Doval is believed to have played a pivotal role in the surgical strikes on terror launch pads in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir after the Uri terror attack.

As for Mishra, he served as additional principal secretary in the PMO in Modi's first term as prime minister. In September 2019, he was elevated as principal secretary to the prime minister. Mishra is a 1972 batch retired IAS officer of the Gujarat cadre.

Besides, two other appointments of former IAS officers of Jharkhand and Himachal Pradesh cadres — Amit Khare and Tarun Kapoor — were made as advisors in the Prime Minister's Office for two years.

KSRTC cargo biz fails to overtake private players

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

TO boost its revenue, Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) forayed into cargo business with 20 trucks in December last.

The corporation's target was to generate Rs 100 crore annual revenue by 2025. It had planned to add 100 trucks soon after the launch and induct 500 more in a year. However, the corporation is struggling to make a mark in the business with tough competition from private players.

A top KSRTC official said, "We started Namma Cargo services in 2021 using corporation buses. We witnessed a good growth initially and recorded Rs 10 crore revenue. Further, we conducted a study of cargo services successfully run by Andhra Pradesh Road Transport Corporation, which is earning more than Rs 150 crore. We ventured into this business with 20 trucks fitted with GPS, with a capacity to carry six tonnes."

HC: BREACH IN DOC-PATIENT TRUST UNACCEPTABLE

'Doctor misusing access to the patient's body would attract IPC Section 354A'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NOTING that the relationship of trust between the doctor and a patient gets eroded if the doctor misuses the trust, the Karnataka High Court refused to quash the criminal case registered by a female patient against a doctor for his alleged unwelcome and explicit sexual overtures.

A doctor should remember that the patients seek their help when they are in a vulnerable state, and such a situation should not be misused

Karnataka High Court

"The act of the doctor in directing the complainant-patient to remove her shirt and bra and placing his mouth on the patient's left breast would become the ingredients of Section 354A(1)(i) of IPC," said Justice M Nagaprasanna while rejecting the petition filed by Dr Chethan Kumar S (33).

The complainant (28) with chest pain visited a hospital in JP Nagar where the accused was a duty doctor. After treating her, he suggested she undergo an ECG and X-ray of the chest and informed her to share the reports on WhatsApp. On seeing the reports forwarded by her, the accused asked her to visit his clinic in Jaraganahalli at about 2 pm on March 21, 2024.

He was alone when she visited the clinic. He took her into a room, asked her to lay down and started checking her heartbeat by placing the stethoscope on her breast. He asked her to pull up the shirt and bra. After examination for five minutes, he started touching the breast with his hands and even kissed the left breast. Panicked by this, she ran away from the clinic and informed her family members. The next day, she registered a complaint against the doctor at Puttenahalli station.

The doctor moved the high court seeking to quash the case, claiming that he was performing his duty and had only placed his stethoscope on the breast, and therefore, the allegations against him were false.

The court, however, said that a doctor has access to the body of the patient. If the access is utilized for healing, it is an altogether different circumstance and a divine act. If it is utilized for some other feeling, it would become advances which would attract Section 354A of the IPC. A doctor should remember that the patients seek their help when they are in a vulnerable state, and such a situation should not be misused, the court said.

Referring to the guidelines for doctors on sexual boundaries notified by the Indian Medical Council, the court said that whenever a female patient is being examined by a male doctor, the presence of another female person is necessary, at the time of physical examination in particular. But the doctor has prima facie violated the guidelines, and hence accepting his petition would amount to putting a premium on his act. Therefore, the investigation should be permitted to continue, the court added.

Signalling tests yet to start: BMRCL

Bengaluru: The signalling tests for the driverless train on RV Road-Bommasandra Line have not yet started, stresses a senior official of the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL). A video of the train zipping past the track released by the PR team, terming it as Mainline testing, has caused much euphoria all around. A top official told TNIE, "No tests were done today. Since the train was stationary in the depot for a few weeks, we just carried out a run on the train in order to maintain it in the required condition. No tests were done at all. This was just a regular run of the train." Asked to clarify the situation, BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao told TNIE, "These are pre-tests before the start of the signalling dynamic tests with the train." The video released by the BMRCL team went viral online with many seeking to know when the actual train operations would commence.

Metro doors fail to open at Trinity, pax evacuated; services disrupted

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru:

THURSDAY morning peak-hour commuters of the Metro heading from Baiyappanahalli to Challaghatta, were in for a nasty surprise when the train reached Trinity Metro Station, but the doors did not open.

The train was detained and the doors were manually opened to enable all passengers to alight at the station, said a Metro source.

An official release said, "Due to a technical snag at Trinity Station at 9.58 am today, train services got disrupted and later the fault (defective) train was moved to a pocket track at Kempegowda Station." Train operations were partial on the Purple Line, and normalcy in operations was restored by 11.30am.

A statement released by BMRCL Chief Public Relations Officer BL Yashavanth Chavan on X at 11.25am, alerted public to the incident, drawing much flak for the delayed information.

Chavan told TNIE, "The train was taken to Kempegowda station by 9.30am. Following that, succeeding trains were allowed to run on these tracks. Trains in the reverse direction from Challaghatta to Baiyappanahalli were not affected. However, due to the delay, the scheduled time-table could be followed only after 11.30 am."

Top Metro officials did not share details on the incident, despite multiple calls.

Following the incident, BMRCL earned much flak online for repeated disruptions in operations in the past few months. A fallen tree branch during rain on June 2, emergency maintenance work near MG Road on May 19 and three suicide attempts this year have all disrupted train operations.

Parks, junctions, road dividers up for CSR adoption

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a direction from Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) published a notification stating that BBMP parks, road dividers, junctions and centre medians can be adopted and maintained under corporate social responsibility (CSR) funds.

The Palike has 1,270 parks that are being maintained by BBMP. Recently, several citizen groups and non-governmental organizations approached the corporation, saying they are interested in maintaining and developing parks, circles and medians.

The Palike stated that under Park Conservation Policy CIPC-2024 and Namma Bengaluru Namma Koduge (My Bengaluru My Contribution) initiative, parks, junctions and medians can be adopted and maintained under CSR initiative by private individuals.

BBMP facilitated the adoption through its official website https://www.bbmp.gov.in. Registration is allowed on the website from June 18, 2024, and the last date is before 5pm, June 29. Interested persons, groups and firms can contact the Deputy Director, Horticulture office of BBMP.

Information can be obtained by calling 9535015189 Preeti Gehlot, Special Commissioner of Forest, Environment and Climate Change Management.

Culinary competition promotes sustainable dining practices

Bengaluru: To promote local food ingredients and advance agricultural achievements through hospitality, the World of Hospitality, along with the South Indian Chefs Association (SICA), has organised a three-day culinary art competition Incredible Chef Challenge (ICC) starting Thursday, June 13. The event has enrolled about 450 chefs to showcase their culinary skills across various categories like live cooking, cake decoration, food carving, bread making, and incorporating organic sustainable practices. The event will conclude on Saturday, June 15. Celebrity Chef and the president of SICA, Damodaran K told TNIE that the challenge aims to encourage participants to create authentic Indian dishes using only essential ingredients, avoiding unnecessary additions. He said that the approach aims to teach students how to prepare different cuisine without wasting ingredients on fancy food plating. The initiative not only discourages food-wasting practices but also ensures that future chefs understand and appreciate the essence of cherishing basic food.

WASTE MGMT

Trial run of waste-to-power plant soon, says BBMP chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath instructed the palike officials to prepare for the trial run of the waste-to-electricity generating unit being set up by the Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL), at Bidadi. The unit aims to solve the excessive garbage problem in the city.

To address the different garbage related problems, Tushar Girinath, who visited various places in the city, said that KPCL is setting up a unit to generate electricity from garbage, and the municipality has to manage the waste. In this regard, he instructed the officials to take appropriate measures to dispose off waste properly.

The work on the waste-to-power plant is almost complete and the remaining work should be completed at the earliest, he said.

He also instructed the officials to arrange for a trial run. According to the Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Limited officials, the plant has been set up on 10 acres of land at a cost of Rs 260 crore. It has the capacity to generate 11.5 MW of power daily.

The Refuse-Derived Fuel (RDF) collected from the dry waste collection centres are to be sent to BBMP's treatment plants for power generation.

RPO issues emergency passport in record 3 hours

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Lalbagh Passport Seva Kendra, with the help of the Regional Passport Office, broke its own record of quick issual of passport during emergencies and displayed remarkable empathy by issuing the passport within three hours of submission of the application, to a homemaker from Electronics City, on Thursday.

Homemaker Brinda Devi will be boarding a flight to Jakarta, Indonesia from Bengaluru late on Thursday to be with her husband during an emergency surgery.

Kumaresan (56), a resident of Bengaluru employed as the manager of a Spinning Mill at Jakarta, suffered a heart attack late Wednesday night, his nephew Ramesh Kumar told TNIE. He was advised to opt for an urgent operation.

"My aunt had a passport but we realised only when we wanted to book tickets that it had expired. We booked an online appointment at Lal Bagh Seva Kendra. On learning about our situation, they guided us completely, and apprised the RPO head office of our situation."

Regional Passport Officer K Krishna told TNIE, "The online appointment was available only two weeks from the date of application. I ensured the appointment was given to them immediately at Lal Bagh. The family was asked to reach there at 1 pm with the necessary documents. They handed them all and our office sent it to us online."

Passports can only be printed at the head office. "After checks, we printed the passport by 4 pm and asked the family to come over and collect the passport," he explained.

Kumar said, "There was complete co-operation from all officials who were empathetic to her plight. We are so relieved it came through so quickly, and are on our way to board our flight to Indonesia."

The police verification will be done later in this instance, Krishna said.

Nursing colleges without basic facilities will be shutdown: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAKING note of ill equipped nursing colleges in the state, Minister of Medical Education, Skill Development and Livelihood, Dr Sharan Prakash Patil issued strict instructions to seal those institutes that are unable to provide minimum facilities to the students, despite government aid.

"Most of the colleges lack basic facilities like a good teaching and non-teaching staff, libraries and laboratories. The institutes collect huge fees during admission, but fail to provide basic facilities," he said.

Patil also added that officials must ensure that from this academic year, the admission process should begin in July.

Director of Medical Education Department Dr Sujatha Rathore was instructed to inspect, and shutdown colleges that lack basic facilities, at the start of every academic year.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

14TH June: Astrology is essentially a study of time. That's why I am especially interested in recent research which indicates not only that time can move backwards, but that it can do so not far from where it's moving forwards. If you found this difficult to understand then don't worry, so do the scientists who are trying to prove it.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Life begins to calm down, although it may be some time before you realise it. You must understand that this is not a day for rushing ahead with practical tasks, but for taking things very carefully indeed. Today's decisions may tie you up for a long time, so make sure they're the right ones.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are completely undecided as to where you should concentrate your energies, and your public or professional ambitions seem to conflict with your desire for domestic contentment or happiness. The contradiction may be more imaginary than real. I know that might not make it any easier, though!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The time is not yet right for firm decisions. However, if a provisional commitment has been made you should stick to it, at least until you know whether other people are going to fulfil their promises. If you're worried that partners might prove unreliable, prepare your back-up plans.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
This is the right time to determine the best approach to be taken in relation to your long-term security, even on questions like who you want to live with and where. Other people need to be made well aware of their responsibilities to you, not to mention their duties to themselves!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you've been feeling emotionally wobbly lately, you may now begin to make a rapid recovery. However, it will be some time before you are free of the practical complications which have developed over recent weeks. At least there's a light at the end of the tunnel!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Optimism returns and secret fears, worries and suspicions should begin to clear. They will be dispelled partly by the increased social confidence shortly to be conferred by Venus and Jupiter. All you have to do is believe in yourself. I know that's not easy, but you can do your best!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may already have found that other people have moved further than they originally intended. If at all possible, you should give partners time to adjust to the new situation, and offer them a helping hand when necessary. You know very well that a favour will be repaid in time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You have had your concerns about the future. Yet, given that professional affairs now seem certain to resolve themselves, domestic matters should follow. That's the least you can expect, given the circumstances. Plus, keep financial plans under tight control while you still can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
One good thing which will result from recent difficulties is a renewed determination to take up a fresh interest or learn a new skill. This is just what you need to keep young and alert, and to build up your self-confidence. If you're a little over-stressed at the moment, then it should pass soon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This has undoubtedly been a difficult week for many people, but you have found it easier than most to steer a course through rocky waters. You may be out of pocket, but in the greater scheme of things that's not too serious. Try to work out which of your worries are real and which are imaginary.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The best, and worst, of the recent cosmic storms have now passed. If you wish to get on you should let bygones be bygones, and realise that while nothing can be done about the past, the future lies in your hands. If a friend has offended you then remember, it might not be their fault. Be forgiving!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You're gradually coming out of your shell, even though it will be another few months before you truly emerge from a solitary phase. You may accept any social invitations that are extended for next week, even if your first reaction is to say 'no'. You never know - you might enjoy yourself!

DARSHAN IN THE DOCK

One accused was political IT operative, finds probe

- Pradush used his cyber knowhow to trace the victim
- Cops get autopsy report, victim had 15 injuries, signs of severe assault

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

INVESTIGATION into the murder case of medical store employee Renukaswamy of Chitradurga, in which actor Darshan and 12 others have been arrested, revealed that one of the accused, Pradush, worked in the IT cell of a national political party and was also the personal assistant to a former minister.

With his cyber expertise, Pradush had traced the details of the victim who was allegedly using fake profiles to send explicit pictures to actor Darshan's close acquaintance Pavithra Gowda. Pradush, an associate of Darshan, is named accused number 14 in the case.

Meanwhile, the postmortem report of Renukaswamy is said to have been handed over to the jurisdictional Kamakshipalya police. The report confirmed 15 injuries on the body. The victim's private parts was also found to have been hit as there was bleeding. Blood clotting in the body following severe assault was also found. Wooden planks and a belt is said to have been used to torture the victim. There were also dog bites on the face and other parts of the body.

On Thursday, Pavithra's minor daughter visited the police station with a woman to meet her mother and Darshan. The young girl appeared to be extremely disturbed. Accused Raghavendra, president of Darshan's Fans Club, who is accused of kidnapping the victim, was taken to Chitradurga for spot mahazar.

There were also rumours that a police sub-inspector attached to Rajarajeshwari Nagar police station had asked the accused to throw the body into the stormwater drain near the Summanahalli bridge. The accused, after committing the murder, had reportedly called the PSI to help them by offering a monetary deal. However, a senior police officer supervising the probe dismissed the accusations. "We checked it on Wednesday itself and found it to be baseless. None of the PSIs attached to the police station were aware of the murder till the body was found," he added.

Ex-MLA gets threat call over protest

Chitradurga: Former MLA G H Thippareddy was threatened by a fan of Darshan on Wednesday. Speaking to media persons, he said he got a call while he was returning home after taking part in the protest over the murder of Renukaswamy. "The caller asked me in a rough voice, Is it Thippreddy, I answered yes. The person questioned me why I took part in the protest to which I replied the entire world knows for what it was conducted, he said. ENS

'STATION COVERED TO PREVENT COMMOTION'

"WE are multi-tasking in terms of collection of information and evidence. We may need certain urgent information from the accused for taking action elsewhere. For a novice in investigation matters, this may appear as a mischief. But in reality, it is not," a senior police officer said. Reacting to this, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said the station has been covered to prevent commotion around it. "As per my knowledge, the accused are taken to court by covering their face. In this case, there are chances of fans gathering in front of the station or raising slogans. There are also chances of stone throwing. The police might have taken this decision as a precautionary measure. I do not have much information," he said.

Meanwhile, the 8th accused in the murder case surrendered before the Chitradurga police on Thursday evening.

The accused has been identified as taxi driver Ravi from Kurubarahatti village in Chitradurga district. He was hired by Chitradurga district Darshan fans' association president and accused No 4 Raghavendra and Jagadish to take Renukaswamy to Bengaluru. However, after reaching Kunchiganal, Renukaswamy was shifted to another car and taken to Bengaluru.

Renukaswamy's mother breaks down at his grave

Chitradurga: An inconsolable Rathnaprabha, mother of S Renukaswamy, broke down completely at her son's grave in Chitradurga on Thursday. Rathnaprabha, accompanied by her husband Kashinath, Renukaswamy's wife Sahana and other family members, visited the grave to perform the third-day rituals as part of the Veerashaiva-Lingayat tradition. "We want justice. The accused should be given harsh punishment for killing my son," she cried. Rathnaprabha also sought a court-monitored probe. She also said that Darshan should be banned from the cinema industry. ENS

Film chamber to take call on ban after court verdict

Bengaluru: Following the sensational murder case in which Sandalwood actor Darshan has been arrested, the Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce (KFCC) held a meeting on Thursday to discuss the next course of action to be initiated against the actor. KFCC president NM Suresh told media persons that the decision on banning Darshan from the industry will be taken only after the court verdict. He said the members of the chamber will also meet the victim's family soon and decide on taking up the matter of compensation for the victim with the government. ENS

No special facilities provided to Darshan, says law minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Law Minister HK Patil on Thursday said that no special facilities are being provided to actor Darshan, who has been arrested in connection with the murder of one of his fans.

When the media asked the minister about Annapoorneshwari police station — where Darshan is being questioned — being covered using shamiana, Patil said, "There is no law that permits a police station to be covered using a shamiana. But we do not know under what circumstances the police have done this."

Since there was commotion outside the police station, the police have clamped Section 144 in the vicinity, he said. "Since more police personnel have been deputed, they cannot be accommodated inside the police station and that could be the reason for the shamiyana," he elaborated.

When the media questioned the need to cover the entire police station, Patil said he cannot comment without knowing all the details. "An accused is an accused. No special treatment is being given to anyone," he reiterated.

Hoax hijack threat delays flights by hours

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

UNLIKE the periodical hoax bomb threats received at Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), the IndiGo flight set to depart from Bengaluru to Bhubaneswar on June 9, Sunday, received a hoax plane hijack threat. The threat was written on a note pasted in the lavatory of a Kolkata-bound IndiGo flight.

An official statement from the airline said, "A note mentioning the hijack of flight 6E 411 from Bengaluru to Bhubaneswar, was found in the lavatory of Indigo flight 6E 676 from Bengaluru to Kolkata. The security measures were enhanced and secondary ladder check point was initiated."

A reliable source said, "The note was found just as the Kolkata flight (with 172 passengers) was planning to depart. The note read - Flight No 6E 411 would be hijacked." 6E 411 to Bhubaneswar was scheduled to depart the same night, by 9.30 pm.

The CISF was alerted immediately. "A meet of airport authorities and the police was held to assess the severity of the security threat. This was followed by a thorough check of both the flights before it was declared a hoax. The entire process took hours."

The IndiGo flight in which the note was pasted suffered a massive delay of 5 hours and 15 minutes. According to flight tracking website Flightradar24, it left KIA only at 11.55 pm and reached Kolkata at 2.10 am on Monday.

The website also revealed that the flight to Bhubaneswar with 176 passengers, left Bengaluru only at 11.23 pm after a delay of 1 hour and 53 minutes, reaching Bhubaneswar only at 1.04 am on Monday.

Edu dept nod for hiring 35k guest teachers, HMs to decide

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

THE Department of School Education and Literacy (DSEL) recently approved the appointment of 35,000 guest teachers for primary government schools in the state and 10,000 for high schools. The vacancies in about 49,679 government schools in the state were pending for a long time and raised several questions on the quality of education in government schools. While the new academic year already began during the first week of June, the government hopes to fill these vacancies soon for 2024-25.

So far, according to sources in the education department, the temporary recruitment of guest teachers is in full swing. The department has assigned the Head Masters (HMs) of the schools to recruit individuals at a school level to speed up the process. The circular mentioned that the recruitment drive should prioritise hiring guest lecturers in rural areas, schools with no teachers and more so schools with high student ratios.

Speaking to TNIE, BB Cauvery, Education Commissioner, DSEL, said, "We've asked the HMs to focus on hiring for Science, Maths and English as students mostly find these difficult to cope with. The other reason is also that the results indicate that these are the three subjects where students underperform, and we see most failures." She added that the vacancies for different subjects vary from taluk to taluk and the Deputy Directors of Public Instruction (DDPIs) are made accountable for the hiring and will need to update on a timely basis.

The Commissioner assured that all of the sanctioned guest teachers will be soon occupied. The HMs will hire on the basis of merits for the subjects and the honorarium for primary school teachers has been set at Rs 10,000 a month and Rs 10,500 for high schools.

K Nagesh, president, Karnataka State Primary School Teachers Association, said though the government's move is welcome to ease the burden on teachers, the department should focus on hiring permanent faculty.

Forest dept to give 500 acres for Yettinahole

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister and Water Resources Minister DK Shivakumar on Thursday said the State forest department has agreed to give 500 acres of land for completion of the Yettinahole project.

Shivakumar convened a coordination meeting with Revenue Minister Krishna Byregowda and Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre on Thursday in Bengaluru. He told reporters that the meeting was convened to complete work at the earliest. "Now that the forest department has agreed to give its land, the revenue department is providing an alternative 500 acres to the forest department in a different place. We will complete this procedure within the law," he said.

Shivakumar said issues related to the Yettinahole project have been identified. At least 20 issues along a 260km stretch will have to be resolved. "A joint survey will be done by the forest department along with revenue and water resource departments," officials said.

Speaking on land compensation for farmers, Shivakumar said the state government has to pay Rs 51 crore to farmers in a few places, of which Rs 10 crore has already been given. There is some confusion over land belonging to the forest or revenue departments, which will be sorted by placing them before the cabinet.

The DCM said work on the balanced watershed near Lakkenahalli of Doddaballapura is yet to commence and they are gearing up to start work. "Directions have been given to release water by next month. Under the first phase, work will be taken up on 48km," he said. They are also planning to set up a high power committee to study water going waste and how to make use of it.

Global Investors Meet from Feb 12-14 next year: Cabinet

Govt aims for timeliness of devpt works, better governance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Thursday announced its decision to conduct Invest Karnataka 2025 - Global Investors Meet from February 12 to 14 next year, at Bengaluru's Palace Grounds. The decision was taken at the state cabinet meeting, which was convened after a gap of three months.

Speaking to reporters after the cabinet meeting on Thursday, Law Minister HK Patil said they need 10-12 months to organise the event, for which cabinet approval was taken. "A sum of Rs 75 crore was allocated, and now an additional Rs 15 crore has been approved. The cabinet also approved roping in The Boston Consulting Group (India) Private Limited as the knowledge partner, at a cost of Rs 21 crore. The company will assist the government in preparing the proposal and will provide required guidance.

Referring to tenders, Patil said the cabinet had given administrative approval for 147 varied tenders between November 2023 and March 2024. Of these, the concerned departments have called 94 tenders, 19 tenders are in the verification stage, and work order has been given for another 18 tenders. He also said seven of the tenders are in the completion stage. "Around 53 works remain, for which tender has been called. This has been taken seriously. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has also directed authorities to complete the tender process and initiate work by next month," Patil said.

He added that there was a discussion on the Seventh Pay Commission, but no decision has been taken. Patil, however, confirmed that there was no discussion on the caste census and other issues. The CM directed ministers to work towards better administration. The latter also expressed their desire to organise Janata Darshan. Siddaramaiah directed ministers to work for the people and avoid delays in development works. He also advised them to improve their departments, as well as districts under their charge. He even directed the Chief Secretary to get officials to take up work. "You will see changes in governance," he added.

The Cabinet also approved a sum of Rs 46 crore towards the purchase of 112 hi-tech buses for NERTC and NWRTC. Besides, the plan to construct a new courthouse in Uttara Kannada district, at an estimated cost of Rs 12 crore, was also approved.

Dr G: BSY WILL BE ARRESTED IF NEEDED; BJP SLAMS GOVT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

HOME Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Thursday said the SIT officials investigating a POCSO case against former chief minister and senior BJP leader BS Yediyurappa can arrest him if needed.

"If needed, they will do it. However, I cannot say if it is required as that will be decided by the SIT," the Home Minister told reporters in response to a question.

The home minister said a notice has been issued to Yediyurappa. "They (SIT) have to file a chargesheet within the 15th and they will do it. They have to follow the procedure, record his statement and he has to be produced," the minister said.

A case was filed against the former CM, alleging that he molested a 17-year-old girl in Bengaluru in February and a case was registered in March this year.

Meanwhile, Opposition BJP leaders slammed the state government and accused it of resorting to hate politics in former CM Yediyurappa's case. Party MLCs CT Ravi, N Ravi Kumar, and Chaluvadi Narayanswamy said it is nothing but hate politics, and Chief Minister Siddaramaiah must answer for it.

The government had not taken any action for four months after the case was registered against the former CM and the home minister too expressed doubts about the case, as the complainant had filed cases against many others, the BJP leaders said.

After Congress MP Rahul Gandhi appeared before the court in Bengaluru in a defamation case, Grand Old Party leaders took this decision and people are aware of the conspiracy, the BJP leaders said.

"It is a politically-motivated move and a conspiracy hatched by the CM, DyCM, and home minister on the directions of AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala," the BJP leaders charged, adding that they would respect the court orders in the case.

BJP, Karnataka, general secretary P Rajeev said it is not right to politicise anything and everything. It was a false case filed three months ago. "No one bothered about it until the election results were out. He has already appeared for investigation 3-4 times. If called, he will go again," he said.

Complainant's son files plea

SPECIAL public prosecutor Ashok Naik submitted that the accused did not appear for investigation on Wednesday (June 12) and he is trying to cover up the case. He alleged that the accused attempted to destroy evidence by offering Rs 2 lakh to the complainant. There was an attempt to delete the video of the act committed by the accused, which was recorded by the complainant. As a powerful politician, Yediyurappa may influence the witnesses. The accused could have appeared before the investigating officer and there was no need for him to go to Delhi ignoring the CID notice. It is difficult to arrest the accused without a warrant as he is out of the state, Naik argued.

Meanwhile, the complainant's son moved the high court urging it to direct the CID to arrest Yediyurappa. He filed the petition as his mother (complainant) passed away recently.

He appealed to the court to direct the investigating agency to collect all digital evidence, including CCTV footage, memory card, hard disc, etc., related to the case. He urged the court to direct the investigating agency to expedite its investigation and file a chargesheet within a month. The petition is likely to come up for hearing soon.

My 'unexpected' LS poll victory is Belagavi people's win, says Shettar

ENS @ Belagavi

THE newly-elected Member of Parliament from Belagavi, Jagadish Shettar called his victory by a margin of more than 1.5 lakh votes as "unexpected", and said it is a victory of the people of Belagavi. He attributed his win to the string of development works undertaken in the constituency by former MP from the BJP, Late Suresh Angadi, during his four terms in office and the efforts made by the party workers in all the eight Assembly segments of the Belagavi Lok Sabha constituency.

He appreciated the efforts made by BJP workers in the Belagavi South Assembly segment, where the party got a highest of 73,000 votes, followed by about 50,500 votes in Belagavi Rural Assembly segment. He said the party workers worked hard in all the eight Assembly segments throughout the campaign and ensured that the majority of people supported the BJP. Shettar said the Parliamentary elections were fought on the basis of national issues and leadership. He said the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his roadmap for the country over the past one decade also resonated with the people.

Amid rumours that leaders of other political parties also helped the BJP in Belagavi in the election, Shettar said he would also like to thank those who indirectly helped him win the seat. However, he did not wish to name any leaders who supported him indirectly, and said he would do so later.

He recalled how the people of Belagavi and party workers welcomed him when he arrived here on March 27, after he was named the party's candidate from the Belagavi seat. He also recalled how a large number of people gathered when he went to file his nomination papers. He called the 16-year term of Angadi as MP a game-changer for him in the election, as it helped him win the seat by a big margin.

Shettar also recalled attempts made by party MLAs from Arabhavi, Balachandra Jarkiholi; and Gokak MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi for helping him get good number of votes from both the constituencies and the brothers' efforts in getting a large chunk of votes from various other Assembly segments too. Commenting on a question on whether Congress MLA Laxman Savadi supported him, he said Savadi never contacted him at all and the internal fight of the Congress was a matter left to that party.

Union Minister of Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy meets Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in New Delhi on Thursday | PTI

After grand reception, Kumaraswamy to leave for Tirupati today

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

UNION Heavy Industries Minister HD Kumaraswamy will arrive in Bengaluru from Delhi on Friday morning and will be driven out of the airport in a procession for a short distance. JDS workers are expected to gather at a clearing near Airport Road to receive the procession. He will address party workers and supporters, before driving to the party office, JP Bhavan, where he will meet office-bearers.

Kumaraswamy will then drive home to meet his father HD Deve Gowda and mother Chennamma and seek their blessings, and then leave for Tirupati with his family members. It is known that the Gowdas have a special connection with Tirupati, and former PM Deve Gowda has spent many birthdays here. At Haradanhalli, the Gowdas helped build a massive Lakshmi Narayan temple.

While questions have been asked if Kumaraswamy would resign as party president or JDLP leader, party sources said there are no such plans. There has been talk in the party that it could appoint a full-time JDLP leader from among the legislators, besides a party president, though both names are still under wraps. Sources said these two leaders could be elected after a core committee meeting, which is not slotted during Kumaraswamy's visit.

However, sources said Kumaraswamy will resign as MLA of Channapatna, from where he was elected with much fanfare just a year ago, with a margin of about 15,900 votes. He has reportedly sought an appointment with the Speaker.

Asked if Nikhil Kumaraswamy would be brought in to contest the Channapatna bypoll, sources said there is no clarity at the moment. Since the bypoll is months away, a decision would be taken at a suitable time, they said.

Miscreants hurl stones at house of Bhavani's driver

HASSAN: Miscreants hurled stones at the house of Ajith, the driver of Bhavani Revanna's car, in Mudalahippe village of Holenarasipur late Wednesday night. According to Hassan Superintendent of Police Mohamed Sujeeta, who visited the village, a three-member gang came on a motorcycle, threw stones at the house, and escaped after its residents raised an alarm. Later, the miscreants also assaulted Ajith's cousin Mohith in the same village. Mohith is under treatment at the taluk hospital. The Holenarasipur Rural Police are currently on the lookout for the miscreants, who remain unidentified. It may be recalled that Ajith failed to appear before the SIT for inquiry in connection with a kidnap and sexual assault case, registered at Bengaluru's KR Nagar police station, against Holenarasipur MLA HD Revanna, his wife Bhavani and son Prajwal.

NIA chargesheets 7 in Ballari ISIS module case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE NIA on Thursday chargesheeted seven accused involved in the Ballari ISIS module case under the IPC, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UA(P)A), Arms Act and Explosive Substances Act.

The seven, arrested earlier by NIA, have been charged with recruitment and radicalization of vulnerable youth as mujahideen to operate as terrorist sleeper cells, the agency stated in a release on Thursday. "The accused were part of a bigger ISIS conspiracy to prepare 50 such sleeper cells in each district of India by 2025. The accused were also involved in the fabrication of explosives for furtherance of the ISIS goal to establish the Caliphate system in India by waging jihad against the Government of India," the NIA stated in the chargesheet.

As per NIA investigations in the case, which was registered in December 2023, the "Ballari module was inspired by the separatist and violent ideology of the proscribed terrorist organisation ISIS. The sleeper cells were being prepared to carry out guerrilla attacks on Indian soldiers, police and leaders of specific religious organisations. The improvised explosive devices prepared by the accused were meant to unleash terrorist violence in various parts of the country".

"The accused had already carried out a trial blast in Bellary, Karnataka, and had also been sharing jihad related digital documents/data with other vulnerable youth," added the agency.

During investigation, NIA had seized explosive materials, sharp-edged weapons, digital devices containing propaganda magazines related to jihad, khilafat, fidayeen attacks published by various terrorist organisations including ISIS, and several incriminating documents/data exposing the ISIS roadmap for establishing Islamic rule in India.

According to the chargesheet, six of the chargesheeted accused had taken 'bayath' (pledge of allegiance) from their co-accused Md Sulaiman alias Minaj, who had proclaimed himself as Amir of the group created by him. Besides Minaj, the others have been identified as Mohammed Muniruddin, Syed Sameer and Md Muzammil, who are residents of Karnataka. Anas Iqbal Shaikh is from Maharashtra, Mohd Shahbaz alias Zulfikar is from Jharkhand, and Shayan Rehman alias Hussain from Delhi. "Further investigations are in progress to unravel the complete conspiracy and identify others involved in the same," added the NIA.

The second board examination for SSLC students are set to begin today (Friday) and will end on June 22. According to KSEAB, 2,23,308 students have registered for it. Of these, 13,085 students will be appearing for the exam to improve their scores

AP CM signs 5 files of key pre-poll promises

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayawada

ON the very first day of taking charge at the State Secretariat at 4.41 pm on Thursday, Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu signed five files related to the key promises made to the people during the elections. Naidu signed the files in the presence of the beneficiaries.

Naidu's first signature was made on the file related to the release of notification for Mega DSC. The second sign was made on the abolition of the AP Land Titling Act brought by the previous YSRC regime. He also cleared the file related to the enhancement of social security pension amount to Rs 4,000 from the existing Rs 3,000 per month. These apart, the CM also signed the files to set up Anna Canteens and to take up Skill Census.

While signing the file related to the abolition of the AP Land Titling Act brought out by the YSRC government, Naidu said that as there are issues with the Act and also the previous CM YS Jagan Mohan Reddy intended to tamper the land records with his henchmen and also made settlements, the NDA government canceled the Act. As land disputes under the Act will have to be resolved only by the HC and the process will take years, we decided to abolish the Act and signed the file, he said.

Cleansing of system will begin from TTD: AP CM

Tirumala: AP CM N Chandrababu Naidu has said the cleansing of governance will be started from the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams. "I will ensure that only Govinda Nama is heard on the sacred hillock," he said. Naidu, who reached Tirumala on Wednesday night after being sworn in as the CM, had darshan of Lord Venkateswara, along with his wife Bhuvaneswari, son Lokesh, daughter-in-law Brahmani and grandson Devansh.

Odisha govt opens 4 gates of Puri temple

RAJ KUMAR MOHANTY & DIANA SAHU @Puri/Bhubaneswar

A four-year-long demand of Lord Jagannath's devotees for allowing them entry through all four gates of the Shree Jagannath temple at Puri was finally fulfilled on Thursday, within hours of the Mohan Majhi government taking oath in Odisha. After 'Mangala Alati' - the first ritual of the temple - the four gates of the shrine were opened in the presence of Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi, deputy CMs KV Singh Deo and Pravati Parida, Cabinet Ministers, MLAs and Puri MP Sambit Patra.

After offering prayers in the sanctum sanctorum, Vimala and Mahalaxmi temples, they paid their respects at the Mukti Mandapa - the high seat of religious scholars in the shrine. Incidentally, no special provisions were put in place by the district administration or police for the visit of CM and his ministers who arrived in Puri on Wednesday night after the first Cabinet meeting in Bhubaneswar.

"We passed the proposal to open all four gates of Mahaprabhu Lord Jagannath's temple in yesterday's Cabinet meeting. Today at 6:30 am, I, along with deputy CMs, ministers and Puri MP, attended the Mangala Alati. All other issues of the temple will be resolved by the government on a priority basis," Majhi said after stepping out of the temple. The cabinet had also cleared a proposal for creating a corpus fund of ₹500 crore in the next state budget for conservation, maintenance and management of the temple.

Opening of the four gates of Srimandir is the first election promise that the new government has fulfilled. The issue had figured prominently in the BJP's election manifesto for Odisha. During the Covid-19 pandemic in 2020, the Odisha government, which was then led by the BJD, had decided to close all the doors for devotees except the Lions Gate.

24 from Kerala among 49 killed in Kuwait building fire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

The fire that ripped through a six-storey apartment at Al Mangaf in Kuwait has claimed the lives of 24 Keralites, the NORKA has said. The blaze that broke out in the building that housed the labourers of an Indian company on Wednesday morning has so far claimed 49 lives, of which 42 are Indians.

Out of 24 Keralites who lost their lives in the fire, 23 have been identified.

Some of the bodies that are yet to be identified will be subjected to DNA test and the process will take two weeks to complete, said NORKA Principal Secretary Dr K Vasuki.

"We have confirmed reports that 15 Keralites have died. However, unconfirmed reports say 24 people have died," Vasuki said. She said the immediate priority was to bring back the bodies, for which the Union government has arranged a special aircraft.

According to sources, the bodies of Keralites will be flown to Kochi in a special aircraft on Friday morning. From Kochi, the bodies will be taken to the victims' houses in special ambulances.

The treatment of those who sustained serious injuries will continue in Kuwaiti hospitals as they have been admitted to the intensive care units.

Meanwhile, a special state cabinet that met on Thursday decided to provide ₹5 lakh each to the family of the deceased and ₹1 lakh each to those injured in the fire accident.

Woman strangles 3-year-old daughter over health issue

Bengaluru: Dejected over health issues faced by her daughter, a woman strangled her three-and-a-half-year-old daughter to death. The incident happened at their home near Subramanyapura on Thursday. The deceased is Preetika. Her mother, Ramya (35), is a resident of Manjunatha Nagar and a software engineer earlier. Her husband, too, is a techie. Ramya strangled her child with her dupatta at 12.30 pm. "The child had congenital hearing loss and other health problems. She rushed the child to a hospital and informed her family about the incident. After two hours of treatment, the child succumbed," the police said adding that Ramya's husband is in Norway. The police have arrested Ramya. ENS

Tusker confronts KSRTC bus on Charmadi Ghat

Chikkamagaluru: A lone tusker confronted a KSRTC bus carrying passengers at Charmadi Ghat on Wednesday night. For over 30 minutes, the elephant stood still, scaring the passengers. The elephant later went around the bus. The driver stopped the bus after he sighted the tusker. Traffic came to a standstill for 2 km. The incident occurred in the between 7th and 8th hairpin bend. After about 30 minutes, the tusker descended and disappeared into the forest. ENS

Shah advised me about post-poll work: Tamilisai

Chennai: Former TN BJP president and party's candidate for South Chennai constituency in the Lok Sabha elections, Tamilisai Soundararajan, on Thursday said her conversation with Union Home Minister Amit Shah was all about post-poll work to be done. Tamilisai's clarification came nearly one-and-half days after the video about her conversation with Shah wagging his finger at her during the swearing-in ceremony of Andhra Pradesh CM N Chandrababu Naidu went viral on social media. Stating that she was issuing this statement to "Clarify all unwarranted speculations around," Tamilisai said, " Yesterday as I met our Honorable Home Minister Shri @AmitShah ji in AP for the first time after the 2024 election, he called me to ask about post-poll follow-up and the challenges faced. As I was elaborating, due to paucity of time with utmost concern he advised me to carry out the political and constituency work intensively which was reassuring." Significantly, when reporters repeatedly asked her what happened during the swearing-in ceremony on Wednesday, Tamilisai, with folded hands, declined to answer and got into her car. ENS

Exploring all options to improve cargo biz, says KSRTC MD

HOWEVER, the plan did not take off as desired. Of the 20 trucks, the corporation is now using 14 to transport spare parts and other goods. "We were earlier using old buses to transport these goods. The cargo sector is highly competitive with many private players operating round-the-clock," the official said.

"One of the reasons for our venture not picking up as expected is we don't have goods loaders and unloaders. Also, we have to map various clusters – fruits, vegetables, textiles and others. We have to match the services provided by the private players and convince the cluster heads to shift to our cargo services. All these will take time," the official said.

KSRTC MD Anbu Kumar said the corporation is exploring all options to improve its cargo business and talks have been held with various clusters. He expressed confidence that the corporation's cargo business will pick up in the coming months.

Climate change taking its toll on wildlife too

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE sudden varying and rising temperatures across the country, heatwave conditions and excess rain have impacted humans and animals alike, especially those in the wild.

The impact is seen not just in Karnataka, but across the country, in the form of increasing cases of conflict and death. To mitigate conflict, state governments undertook the task of drilling borewells and filling waterholes inside forests. Experts and officials from the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) and Wildlife Institute of India (WII) condemned this and asserted that the natural course should not be disturbed and there should be least human interference.

Taking a cue, they said this was the right time take up a study on the impact and chalk out an action plan for the future. They also noted that it was not just the natural weather course, but various infrastructure projects undertaken over the years have worsened the situation in forests. This is also impacting the mental health of animals, which needs to be studied.

"A detailed weather impact study of each landscape, along with a management plan, should be conducted. The physiological impact on animals and plants also needs to be studied. The best way to ensure safety of wildlife is to make sure that natural water bodies are not touched by construction of dams. Rivers and rivulets should be protected, as also natural vegetation as animals shift zones as the day progresses and weather changes," the MoEFCC official said.

Praveen Bhargav, trustee, Wildlife First, and former member of the National Board for Wildlife said: "Wild animals have evolved over millions of years and have survived severe climatic conditions. Scientific consensus is clear that fanciful ideas of creating more water holes, bringing tankers to fill them, constructing check-dams etc. must not be considered even where there is a heatwave. Absolutely no human intervention is necessary in Protected Areas. Corporates, too, must not rush and provide CSR funding for unscientific and ecologically damaging activities."

Prof R Sukumar, noted wildlife expert and part of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, said lack of water also impacts forage quality, leading to starvation in animals and death, and impacts herbivores and carnivores. But varying weather conditions helps keep a check on wildlife cycle. He added that a contingency plan and landscape protection plan are needed for better wildlife management.

Former WII Dean GS Rawat said this is the right time to regulate tourism. Provision of tankers and creation of artificial waterholes in semi-arid or dry deciduous forest patches lead to forest degradation as the balance of prey and carnivore base is affected. Animals migrate during summers and the paths they use are natural ones, and should be protected. This will address conflict management for coming harsh times.

NAIDU NEEDS TO EXPLAIN REVENUE PLAN, REIN IN TDP CADRE

THE overwhelming mandate for the NDA has changed the political landscape in Andhra Pradesh in a way that none may have expected. Winning 164 out of the 175 seats in the assembly is unprecedented and, for this reason, the TDP-Jana Sena-BJP dispensation has a far greater responsibility on its shoulders. TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu, who assumed the chief minister's mantle for the fourth time, must be conscious of the sky-high expectations that the people have from his government. As promised, on his first day in office, he signed files pertaining to the recruitment of 16,347 teachers, scrapping of the controversial Land Titling Act, raising social security pensions to ₹4,000 a month and conducting a 'skill census' to help the unemployed youth.

The real challenges lie ahead. Andhra has close to ₹5 lakh crore debt, excluding loans raised through state corporations. Though the economy is recovering well after the pandemic, the previous government had difficulty in implementing its welfare schemes. The new government will face the same problem, more so as the TDP has promised 'Super Six' guarantees—which are sure to cost the exchequer much more than the ₹2.7 lakh crore the YSRC government spent on welfare. During the campaign, the TDP didn't spell out how it would mobilise the funds except reiterating that Naidu knows how to create wealth. Now that the party is in power, it needs to get into the nitty-gritties. The TDP has also vowed to resume the development of Amaravati, the capital. The new city will surely cost much more than the ₹1 lakh crore originally earmarked. As a key partner in the NDA government at the Centre, Naidu might be able to secure grants more easily than the earlier government. But that might not be enough. Though Amaravati will be developed in phases, the scope for borrowing is limited due to the mountain of debt already incurred. Naidu would require all his administrative and marketing expertise to generate revenue without burdening the public.

This apart, the post-poll violence in the state is disconcerting. It is good that Naidu has ruled out vindictive politics, but his message needs to percolate down to the TDP grassroots. If corruption is unearthed in any department, the government is duty-bound to tackle it as per the law. But a witch-hunt of political opponents could backfire, as we saw in the elections.

ODISHA FACES TIGHTROPE ON OLD WELFARE SCHEMES

THE first BJP government in Odisha has started off with a bang. All the four gates of the Shree Jagannath Temple, shut to devotees for about four years, were thrown open early Thursday, within hours of the Mohan Charan Majhi government taking oath. It was a top poll promise and figured in the government's first cabinet meeting, which also ratified proposals for raising the minimum support price for paddy and implementing Subhadra Yojana, two key agendas of the saffron party. The 53-year-old chief minister, after he was elected leader of the party in legislature, went out of the way to meet common people and seek feedback on their expectations from the new government. The BJP wants to show its government will be nothing like the previous, 24-year-old BJD government. First, it surprised all by picking Majhi, a four-time MLA from Keonjhar district, to head the government. An RSS swayamsevak, Majhi's elevation is symbolic in its representation of the aspirations of marginalised communities. Of his two deputies, one is a royal, and the other a debutant MLA whose name will be on the honour rolls for being the state's first woman deputy CM. The government bears the signature of the Narendra Modi-led BJP, which is broad-based, inclusive and gender-responsive. So far, all the right boxes have been ticked.

For the future, the government has its task cut out. It has come to power riding huge expectations of change from the youth, which is why employment will be a major challenge. Odisha, according to a recent ILO report, was among the lowest-ranking states in employment condition, which saw little change between 2005 and 2022. The BJP's promise of creating 3.5 lakh new jobs in five years and filling up 1.5 lakh government vacancies would require considerable work. So would the promise of building an additional 75,000 km of rural roads and state highways and adding 36,000 beds in primary and community health centres. As the initial euphoria settles, the BJP will have to deal with a huge bouquet of welfare schemes the BJD government has left as its legacy and it can barely afford to irk the large groups of beneficiaries. While it will always be drawn into comparisons with the older dispensation, the Majhi government will have to walk a tightrope all on its own.

QUICK TAKE

HELP FOR EMIGRANT WORKERS

THE tragic loss of 49 lives—including of at least 41 Indians—in a fire in Kuwait should remind us of a solemn responsibility. They were migrant workers who are often packed into tenements with little care for health and safety concerns. At the end of 2022, there were 87.5 lakh Indians working in six Gulf countries, including 9.2 lakh in Kuwait. As a society, we are thankful of the billions of dollars in remittances they send back. But we remember them mostly in such tragic circumstances. The government must use its good offices to ensure a transparent probe and ensure the workers are housed habitably in the future.

With a higher proportion of opposition MPs in the new Lok Sabha, one hopes the House would no longer be treated as a mere notice board for the government

FOR HEALTHIER DEBATES IN NEW HOUSE OF PEOPLE

SOURAV ROY

ONE of the more interesting possibilities thrown up by the recent election results is the prospect for a change in the functioning of parliament. In the days when PM Narendra Modi's BJP enjoyed an absolute majority, the institution had been reduced to little more than a notice board for the government's announcements and a rubber-stamp for its decisions. The expectation that it will now instead be run according to parliamentary rules, conventions and practices established worldwide and honoured in the past in our own nation too, suddenly looks more likely in a Lok Sabha in which nearly 45 percent of members are from the opposition.

Whereas, in the days of the UPA government, 86 percent of all Bills were first referred to a parliamentary standing committee, the BJP/NDA government just sent 14 percent of Bills to committees for scrutiny. This has deprived MPs of all parties the opportunity to examine proposed Bills in detail and offer suggestions the government should take into account before the Bill is brought to the House for a vote. As it is, Bills arrive on the floor untested by such a parliamentary process and, since the BJP has so far enjoyed a brute majority, are passed without a single opposition comment or criticism being taken into account. This must change, and the new reality might help bring it about.

The composition and chairmanship of parliamentary committees must also be modified to reflect the strength of the opposition and the convention of inviting senior opposition MPs to chair committees on substantial issues restored. The BJP behaved disgracefully in ending the long-established practice, since the very inception of the committee system in parliament, of having the External Affairs Committee always chaired by an opposition MP to show that the nation was of one mind on foreign policy. Currently, all major parliamentary committees dealing with sensitive issues are chaired by MPs of the ruling party or its allies—and this must change.

The rules of business in parliament, in theory, permit the opposition to raise issues of importance through an assortment of techniques under various provisions. But, especially during the second term of the BJP government, most of the burning issues raised by the opposition in the Business Advisory Committee of the Lok Sabha were not brought to the floor for discussion. Instead of debating such vital but contentious issues raised by the opposition as unemployment, inflation, the farm crisis or the Agniveer scheme, let alone the border situation with China during the monsoon and winter sessions, the lower house was assigned an innocuous and inconsequential discussion on sports, which occupied the entire time available for such discussions (unrelated to the passage of Bills). Again, a weightier opposition should be able to bring up major issues for discussion without being steamrolled in this manner.

The strongest method available to an opposition MP to force a discussion or debate is the adjournment motion. This well-established parliamentary technique permits a member to move a motion to adjourn the proceedings of the House in order to discuss a matter of urgent public importance. So far in the BJP's ten-year tenure, every single adjournment motion submitted to the Speaker has been rejected. This is almost unprecedented in any parliamentary democracy elsewhere. One would hope that a more receptive Speaker could change this habit of rejecting every single adjournment motion moved by an opposition MP, and admit at least one per session to permit the kind of healthy debate that is the essence of our democratic system.

Another unparliamentary practice that has been resorted to by the Speaker during the second BJP term is to club all proposed amendments to Bills into one lot in order to reject them collectively by voice vote without discussion. This is a travesty, since the outcome of the vote is anyway a foregone conclusion and introducing each amendment individually is the only opportunity for an opposition MP to place his or her concerns about a Bill on the record.

A similar parliamentary technique given short shrift in recent years is the right of MPs to record their dissent on an issue—even a Bill that has just been passed by the government with an overwhelming majority—through calling for a "division". Though traditional practice just requires an MP to call out the word "division" to oblige the Speaker to record the votes of all MPs present, the current Speaker has in fact systematically refused even to notice requests for division. These parliamentary techniques are essential for the opposition to feel they are valued members of an institution rather than irrelevances who can always be disregarded and outvoted.

Equally important is the attitude of the government and the spirit in which it conducts parliamentary affairs. It used to be said in the UPA days that the parliamentary affairs minister spent more time on opposition benches than in his own seat, consulting with the other side on every initiative. During the BJP's recent tenure, the ministers concerned not only stayed in their seats but issued diktats to the opposition with the air of schoolmasters chastising errant delinquents. A different approach will now be required. No BJP scheme requiring a constitutional amendment, for instance—as would be the case with the Uniform Civil Code or the 'one nation, one election' scheme—should be introduced without detailed prior consultation with the opposition. Similarly, proposals affecting states' rights, the federal system, the allocation of funds and other national resources to states, or matters requiring implementation by state governments will have to be introduced only after prior consultation—especially given the new government's reliance on regional parties within its own coalition.

One might well ask whether my optimism that these changes will occur might not fall afoul of the BJP's preference for "bulldozer justice" and the PM's own well-established instinct to dispense with the niceties of parliamentary consultation. The reason I am confident the government will have to mend its ways lies in the capacity of a robust opposition to thwart the work of parliament if denied a fair hearing. During UPA-2, the BJP, with just 116 MPs, frequently brought the Lok Sabha to a standstill by disrupting proceedings. The INDIA bloc has twice that number. Better to work with them across the aisle than wreck the system by failing to acknowledge their strength. One can only hope the newly-chastened NDA government understands that in democracy, conciliation is always preferable to confrontation.

A DEMOCRACY OF TRIVIALITIES

NANDINI CHANDRA

Associate Professor, University of Hawai'i at Manoa and author of The Classic Popular: Amar Chitra Katha, 1967-2007

CURRENT events are at once mind-bending and utterly commonplace. In the recent Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak-Anshul Kumar controversy, we witness a competitive shaming and a contest grounded in the discourse of marginality. Neoliberal education is crisscrossed with the contradictions of promising social mobility to the marginal, alongside an acculturation full of discipline and punishment, putatively granting access to the subtleties or trivialities of socio-cultural correctness.

These contradictions become even more fraught when the interlocutors straddle different cultural iterations of diversity. While Spivak is one of the most iconic Brahmin-born American academics committed to the figure of the 'subaltern', Kumar is a Bahujan-Dalit studying at one of the most prestigious public universities in India.

The neoliberal discourse of accommodation of minorities in India is relatively recent, coinciding with a cunning overlap between the entry of Bahujan-Dalits into the public university (the Mandal Commission education quota implemented in 2006) as well as of private players in the higher education market. Despite the significant contribution of reservations in creating a measure of inclusivity, social diversity was never a part of a self-conscious rhetoric or branding.

The Spivak-Anshul Kumar exchange evinces this more commodified language of diversity. The Bahujan-Dalit's refusal to learn 'trivialities' could be read as dramatising the practical difficulties faced by the neoliberal model of education, which simultaneously promises standardised outcomes as well as unbridled self-expression. Kumar's style of interrogation shows that the two don't go together. Spivak finds him rude and demands he pronounce sociologist William Du Bois' name correctly. While her insistence on correct pronunciation may be justified, correcting him again and again in a manner that forestalls the question he is clearly intent on asking suggests the use of academic protocols for an ad hominem attack on his credibility.

Nor was it a mere correction. Spivak was clearly weaponising their status-asymmetry to shame him. While marginality and exclusion are the most fashionable topics of research today, these bitter encounters reveal that the living form of democracy goes unaddressed; Bahujan-Dalit styles of intellectual exchange remain at odds with a traditional academic code of conduct.

The question is really about the nature of intellectual labour and the possibility of transcending its alienating character. Is the matter of correct pronunciation mere nitpicking, or should we read Kumar's 'trivialities' comment as a sign of academic laziness? Bahujan-Dalit pedagogy has consistently rejected the use of Brahminical ideas of merit and punitive methods of learning, recognising a long history of abjection to have served their oppression.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

The recent exchange between Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak, an iconic US-based academic, and Anshul Kumar, a Dalit student from a public university in India, laid bare deep faultlines in neoliberal academia and the discourse on marginality

As representatives of diversity, Bahujan-Dalit students and academics must perform surplus labour in the form of demonstrating difference, or even proving their abjection. This sharing of lived experiences is rooted in feminist standpoint theory's privileging of an alternative pedagogy. The proliferation of 'marginal' identities coupled with the rise of postcolonial theory has tended to generalise cultural studies' emphasis on lived experiences, paradoxically turning the performative labour of cultural difference into a universal imperative.

My point here is that the lament over students' inability to listen and learn has to be seen from the perspective of a general milieu of performance in which the silent and unquantified intellectual work becomes less relevant. At the same time, the neoliberal reversal makes the standpoint epistemology—intended for creating solidarity between the oppressed—into a competition over who will get the award for the most authentic performance.

The videos in which students hit back are not a pretty sight. They showcase both suffering through re-living the moment of trauma and the enjoyment of it afforded by the triumph of shaming the shamer. The currency of shaming is nothing but a weaponised form of cultural difference. If modernity and the classic liberal university were about developing a capacity for guilt—an inner conscience, an ethical framework—then the new language of diversity is about reclaiming tools of a shame culture by subjecting the privileged to an unforgiving and permanent gaze. This is not class war, but a politics of ressentiment.

While the shame culture is a debased currency, shame itself has liberatory potentials. In a brilliant essay called 'The Descent into Shame', Joan Copjec clarifies that shame is not about a plurality of cultures, but a singular relation to one's cultural inheritance, allowing one to split off, however painfully, from a familiar image of oneself. The cringe effect of shame can force us to confront something alien within ourselves, "something in us more than us", thanks to a sudden awareness of the other's gaze. Progressively, the university has erased all avenues for feeling this unease in the name of safe and empathetic spaces, while failing to explore the conditions of creating real safety in an unequal world.

Yet, despite the fireworks, the final takeaway of the drama is quite banal: an illustration of how we are always talking at cross purposes. Spivak scoffed at his aggressivity, not mindful at all of the courage it takes for a subaltern student to ask a hostile question of an academic of her stature.

It is no surprise institutionalised cultural difference should end up "talking, but not listening"; what is surprising is that these performances are expected to serve the aims of empathy, ethics and greater democratisation. It brings to mind the risible dialogue from Dabangg about the symbolic Other's love being more terrifying than their slaps: "Thappad se dar nahi lagta hai sahab, pyar se lagta hai (Not afraid of your slaps, sir, but afraid of your love)."

Miraculous win

Ref: The BJP's mistake of misreading Bengal (Jun 13). It was a miracle even for those admiring Mamata Banerjee that she won 29 out of the state's 42 seats independently. With the Indian electoral game over, the PM indicated a big bang schedule to achieve what he calls the Viksit Bharat 2047 goals. This has understandably raised great expectations among investors mainly because they believe stability would spur indices to new highs. The election results and the quick formation of a coalition regime with a little under 300 MPs on board have also revived hopes for the nation to set its feet on the path towards growth.

BJP mulls nominating Smriti Irani, Munda and RK Singh to Rajya Sabha

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP may consider nominating at least three of its defeated party candidates in the recent Lok Sabha polls — Smriti Irani, Arjun Munda and RK Singh, all Union ministers in the Modi 2.0 team — to the Rajya Sabha.

This move will fill vacancies caused by the election of some RS members to the Lok Sabha.

Party sources indicated that Irani, Munda, and Singh could be the party nominees from various states to the Rajya Sabha. Irani lost from Amethi, Munda from Jharkhand's Khunti and Singh from Bihar's Arrah.

Despite her defeat, Irani's political experience makes her a valuable asset for the party. Munda is a former CM and a prominent tribal face of the party.

"His long association with the BJP and his administrative experience make him a suitable candidate for a Rajya Sabha nomination. His nomination is almost final," said a BJP leader.

RK Singh served as the minister of state for power and new and renewable energy in the second term of the Modi government. Singh's background as a bureaucrat and his contributions to the energy sector align with the BJP's focus on governance and development. By nominating these leaders to the Rajya Sabha, the BJP wants to utilise talent within its ranks effectively, reflecting its strategic approach towards governance and legislative dynamics.

Meanwhile, the RS secretariat has notified the vacancies from Assam, Bihar and Maharashtra, Haryana, MP, Rajasthan and Tripura.

"Many Rajya Sabha MPs have been elected to the Lok Sabha, so vacancies have cropped up in the Upper House. The BJP's RS MPs Sarbananda Sonowal from Assam, Vivek Thakur from Bihar, and Jyotiraditya Scindia from MP and Piyush Goyal from Maharashtra have been elected to the LS. The former ministers defeated in LS election may be nominated form three of these vacant RS seats," said a party source.

Defeated, but invaluable

Despite her defeat, Smriti Irani's political experience makes her a valuable asset for the BJP. Arjun Munda is a former CM and a prominent tribal face. RK Singh's background as a bureaucrat and his contributions to the energy sector align with the BJP's focus on governance and development.

Leave nothing to chance, PM on J&K security

Deploy full spectrum of counter-terror capabilities to thwart even minor activities, Modi tells security agencies

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

HOURS before departing to Italy for attending the G-7 Summit, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday chaired a meeting with officials and reviewed the situation in Jammu and Kashmir following recent terror attacks.

The PM has directed the Jammu and Kashmir Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha and other senior officials to ensure total safety of people and a terror-free environment. As a part of the meeting, the PM also spoke to Home Minister Amit Shah. Sources said the PM told the officials to deploy the "full spectrum of counter-terror capabilities" to check even minor terrorist activity.

The PM told officials that no chance should be left from being utilised to completely annihilate the terror tentacles across Jammu and Kashmir. The PM's directives come at a time when J&K is getting ready to handle the security of Amarnath Yatra scheduled to begin this month. The yatra till continue until August 19.

"The discussion that the PM had also included security aspects linked to the upcoming assembly elections, tentatively due in September after the Supreme Court mandated it recently," said a source.

Officials attending the review meeting with the PM gave him briefs on the entire security situation and details of adopted security paradigms stating as how the security forces have intensified counter-terror operations in the wake of some incidents.

Prominent officials who attended the meeting with the PM included NSA Ajit Doval. The PM's conversation with Shah covered the deployment of forces in the UT.

Sources said today's deliberations would be followed by another key meeting to be held by Shah. Overall, Modi's call for the deployment of comprehensive counter-terror capabilities signals the government's resolve to ensure zero-terror in the UT. The PM was also briefed on the recent terrorist incidents that took place in parts of J&K resulting in loss of lives.

In the recent past, terror incidents were reported from four places in Reasi, Kathua and Doda districts, killing nine pilgrims and a CRPF jawan. In many rounds of swift operations against terrorists, security forces have neutralised two Pakistan-backed terrorists in Kathua and recovered a large quantity of arms and ammunition from their possession.

The most disturbing terror incident occurred on Sunday when terrorists opened fire on a 53-seater bus carrying pilgrims to the shrine of Mata Vaishno Devi in Katra from the Shiv Khori temple. Nine persons died in that incident.

Forces on hot pursuit in Kashmir, terrorists shift focus to Jammu region

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

FACING tough action from security forces in the Valley, militants have been trying to shift their terror activities from Kashmir to the Jammu region, police officials said.

The militants have struck in six out of 10 districts of Jammu region in the last one-and-a-half months, resulting in 15 deaths. In a major strike on June 9, a bus carrying pilgrims was attacked in Reasi district, resulting in nine deaths.

According to the police, the attack poses a major security challenge as it happened in a region where militancy has had a relatively small imprint. The last time terrorists struck in the region was in May 2022, when a bomb attack killed four Vaishno Devi pilgrims and injured more than 20.

"Militants are attempting to spread an arc of violence in the Jammu region beyond the border districts of Rajouri and Poonch," said former Jammu and Kashmir police chief SP Vaid.

The Jammu region, south of Pir Panjal range, has dense forest areas and militants use caves in the mountain ridges as hideouts. "Since militants are on the run in the Valley due to operations by security forces, they are desperately trying to shift their activities to Jammu region," said a police officer.

Jammu and Kashmir Director General of Police RR Swain said Pakistan is pushing its own men to disturb peace in Jammu region if they cannot cause disturbances in the Valley.

"There is a long and difficult terrain and they (Pakistan) are using it to push foreign militants to disturb peace in Jammu and Kashmir. This is a major security challenge," Swain said.

"We are planning our response to counter these threats. We are mapping our resources to give a befitting reply to it. We will defeat militants the way we did it from 1995-2005, when they were active in the Jammu region," the DGP said.

High number of heatwave days in 3 yrs, says IMD data

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE country has experienced highest number of heatwave days in the past three years, fresh data of India Meteorological Department (IMD) shows.

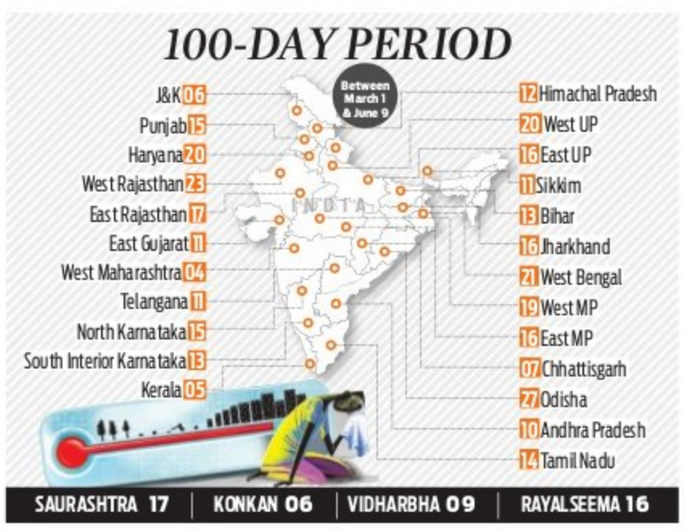
Against around 170 days of normal heatwave days in the past 100 days in all 36 meteorological sub-divisions, India has experienced 446 days of heatwave days in different regions.

Odisha experienced the highest number of heatwave days followed by Rajasthan. However, Kerala, coastal Karnataka, Lakshadweep, north-eastern region and Andaman & Nicobar have reported no heatwave days.

"In the current year the number of heatwave days is the highest when compared to past three years," said RK Jenamani, a scientist with IMD.

Heatwave arrival this year has different character. Onset of severe heatwave started in April to the first week of May in southern India and a part of east India. However, northern India was immune to it due to back-to-back western disturbances. North and east India experienced sizzling heatwave from mid-May to early June.

According to IMD data, there was a record jump of 125% in heatwave days in May and 66% increase in April.



In 2023, heatwave days mostly started from June. April and May had lesser number of heatwave days. In 2022, onset of heatwave days was quite early — it started from early March and continued till early May.

In the last one month, most parts of the country, especially northwest and east India, saw temperatures ranging between 44°C and 49 °C for many days.

Longer duration of heatwave days has caused a large number of heat-related casualties. Reports say there would be over 25,000 suspected heatstroke cases and at least 56 causalities across the country in May.

A new report by ClimaMeter shows that India's heatwave in May 2024 was 1.5°C more warmer than previously observed. IMD scientists say the intense and prolonged heat wave in May was a result of the El Nino effect. However, El Nino phase ended in early June and La Nina phenomenon has started, indicating bountiful monsoon.

Pradhan rules out paper leak, graft & inefficiency

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

There is no evidence of a paper leak in NEET-UG. No proof has been found yet. The allegations of corruption in NTA are unfounded. NTA is a credible body

Dharmendra Pradhan, Education Minister

UNION education minister Dharmendra Pradhan on Thursday rejected allegations of question paper leak in the NEET-UG examination, saying there is no evidence to substantiate the claims. He also strongly denied corruption or inefficiency in the National Testing Agency (NTA), which conducted the exams for admissions to various medical courses in the states and all over India.

The minister's response came after the Centre told the Supreme Court that the decision to give grace marks to 1,563 NEET-UG 2024 candidates for admission to MBBS, BDS and other medical courses has been cancelled and these students will have the option to take a re-test on June 23. The court, however, did not stay the counselling process for the admissions.

"There is no evidence of a paper leak in NEET-UG. No proof has been found yet... The allegations of corruption in NTA are unfounded. It is a very credible body. There is no inefficiency," said Pradhan, who took charge of the ministry for the second consecutive term.

He said NTA conducts three major examinations — NEET-UG, JEE and CUET — successfully. "The grace marks that were awarded earlier were not at the whims and fancies of NTA but based on a Supreme Court formula. There is a basis to those calculations. If there are anomalies, those will be rectified and we will ensure that no student is at a disadvantage," Pradhan said, adding, "About 24 lakh students appeared in the examination. A hearing is underway in the Supreme Court and this issue is regarding around 1,500 students. Government is ready to give answers to the court," he said.

Govt response to court

The minister's response came after Centre told the SC that the decision to give grace marks to 1,563 candidates for admission to MBBS, BDS and other medical courses has been cancelled and they can opt for retest on June 23.

Cong demands inquiry, removal of NTA chief

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

We are waiting for the next Parliament session. We will raise the voice of 24 lakh youths. Anger over the NEET exam will also reverberate inside Parliament

Gaurav Gogoi, Congress leader

SHARPENING its attack on Union government over the alleged irregularities in NEET-UG results, the Congress on Thursday reiterated its demand for a Supreme Court-monitored probe into the issue, and asserted that the anger in the country over the matter will "reverberate inside Parliament as well".

The Opposition party also demanded the removal of the National Testing Agency (NTA) Director General and claimed that the BJP government's attitude towards the ongoing demand for an inquiry into the NEET-UG examination is "irresponsible and insensitive".

Targeting the government, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said that the future of 24 lakh students is at stake due to its actions.

"Grace marks was not the only problem in the NEET-UG exam. There has been rigging, paper leaks and corruption. A nexus of exam centres and coaching centres has been formed where the game of 'pay-money-get-paper' is being played," Kharge said.

The Congress chief further said that the government cannot escape its responsibility by placing the onus on NTA. "There should be a CBI investigation into the entire NEET-UG scam. If the Modi government is not ready for a CBI inquiry, then the Congress party demands a fair inquiry under the supervision of the Supreme Court," Kharge said in an X post.

Congress MP Gaurav Gogoi told media that the issue will be raised in the upcoming Parliament session on June 24.

"We will raise the voice of 24 lakh youths of the country inside Parliament. The anger over the NEET exam in the country will also reverberate inside Parliament," Gogoi said.

Ordinary families have been forced to cough up amounts close to ₹30 lakh due to promises given to them by different coaching and examination centres, said Congress MP Gaurav Gogoi, addressing mediapersons.

'Ensure free sanitary pads at board exam centres'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

RECOGNISING the challenges faced by girls due to limited access to sanitary products and menstrual hygiene facilities during examinations, the Central government on Thursday issued an advisory to all schools in the country to provide free sanitary pads at all Class 10 and 12 board examination centres.

The announcement — aimed at ensuring the health, dignity and academic success of female students during examinations — came soon after Union education minister Dharmendra Pradhan took charge of the ministry for the second consecutive term.

The Department of School Education and Literacy (DoSEL), under the Union Ministry of Education, also announced that menstruating girls should be given bathroom breaks. "Female students are to be permitted to take restroom breaks to address menstrual needs, alleviating discomfort and promoting focus during exams," the advisory said.

Also, sensitisation and awareness programmes should be carried out, it said.

"Educational programmes will be implemented by states and UTs to raise awareness about menstrual health and hygiene among students, teachers and other staff. This approach aims to reduce stigma and foster a more understanding school environment," it added.

"By addressing menstrual hygiene concerns during exams, the DoSEL emphasizes the importance of treating female students with dignity regarding their menstrual needs, and at the same time, empowering them to confidently participate in exams and achieve their academic potential.

EDUCATION

States asked to provide free study material to disabled

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Centre has issued an advisory to all states and Union Territories to ensure that all children with special needs are provided free uniforms, textbooks and mid-day meals.

The Union Ministry of Education said children with special needs studying in government or government-aided inclusive, home-based or special schools are provided with Right To Education entitlements such as free uniforms, free textbooks, interventions under the inclusive education component of Samagra Shiksha Scheme, and mid-day meal under PM Poshan, if need be in the form of dry ration or Direct Benefit Transfer.

The advisory, which was issued on June 7 but was announced on Thursday, is aimed at specifically addressing the nutritional needs of the students of special schools under the Social Welfare Department and also students with severe and multiple disabilities enrolled in home-based education by extending the coverage of its Centrally-sponsored PM Poshan scheme. "The aim is to ensure the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 objective of providing access to quality education for all, including children with special needs, thereby realising their Right to Education and promoting inclusive education," a ministry statement read.

NEP 2020 emphasises that the education system must aim to attain equity and inclusion of all children.

Culture ministry issues guidelines for contractual interns, research fellows

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Culture has issued a set of guidelines to streamline the hiring of short-term contractual interns and research associates in its Galleries, Libraries, Archives and Museums (GLAM) division.

The objective is to make stopgap arrangements against the existing vacant posts and also to provide opportunities to fresh graduates.

According to the ministry, the hired interns will get hands on experience and can connect with industry academia in the field of Museology, Archaeology and Art History. The institutions under the culture ministry can also benefit from the interns, who will be assisting the existing staff.

The ministry said there is an acute shortage of trained manpower in government museums under it as well as facilities under the states and private entities. It added that the lack of skilled workforce in the field clearly indicates disconnect between the industry and academia, and hence, there is a need to link these areas by making trained workers available in the industry.

"The engagement of the interns will be made through on-campus selection. The Indian Institute of Heritage (IIH), Noida, will write to other institutes to organise campus selections at IIH. All the organisations have been asked to send requests to project their demands for engagement of short-term contractual interns and research associates to IIH," read the guidelines.

The guidelines state that the interns will be engaged against the existing vacant posts and the fund requirements will be met from the available budget under the salary head.

The initiative to engage interns is a pilot project and will be reviewed after a year. If the project is successful, it will be scaled up in other Central and state institutes, said the officials.

Interns to be hired via on-campus selection

The engagement of the interns will be made through on-campus selection. The Indian Institute of Heritage (IIH), Noida, will write to other institutes to organise campus selections at IIH. All the organisations have been asked to send requests to project their demands for engagement of short-term contractual interns and research associates to IIH.

ROOF COLLAPSE

An elderly couple and their son were injured after the roof of their second floor flat collapsed on them at Kalwa in Maharashtra's Thane city, officials said. The incident occurred in the four-storey building before midnight.

Pema Khandu CM for 3rd time in row

Amit Shah, JP Nadda, Himanta Biswa Sarma present at oath-taking ceremony in Itanagar

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

BJP leader Pema Khandu was on Thursday sworn in as the chief minister of Arunachal Pradesh for the third time in a row. He was administered the oath of office and secrecy by Governor Lt Gen (retired) KT Parnaik at a function held in Itanagar.

Union ministers Amit Shah, JP Nadda, Kiren Rijiju, Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma and Sikkim Chief Minister Prem Singh Tamang (Golay) were among dignitaries present. Chowna Mein was sworn in as Deputy Chief Minister. He served in the post in the previous government.

Ten others were sworn in as Cabinet ministers. They are Biyuram Waghe, Nyato Dukam, Gabriel Denwang Wangsu, Wanki Lowang, Pasang Dorjee Sona, Mama Natung, Dasanglu Pul, Balo Raja, Kento Jini and Ojing Tasing.

Dasanglu, wife of former Chief Minister Kalikho Pul, is the only woman to be sworn in as a minister.

Khandu was first elected as the chief minister in 2016 after a power struggle in the then ruling Congress. Later, 43 MLAs led by him had switched to ally People's Party of Arunachal and then, to the BJP leading to the formation of a saffron party government.

After his swearing-in on Thursday, Khandu told the media it was because of people's blessings that the BJP could retain power. He thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Nadda, stating that the BJP contested the polls in the state under their leadership and got success.

"In the past, the Narendra Modi government took a series of development initiatives in the Northeast. Keeping that in mind, people gave us 46 of the 60 Assembly seats and the state's two parliamentary seats. They have cooperated with Modi Ji by electing the BJP again," Khandu said.

2nd woman minister in state after a gap of 36 yrs

Wife of former CM

The 46-year-old Dasanglu is a 12th pass and wife of former Chief Minister Kalikho Pul. She was among 10 BJP candidates who won the April 19 Assembly elections uncontested. Dasanglu was elated after her induction into the Pema Khandu ministry

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

AFTER a wait of 36 years, Arunachal Pradesh on Thursday got its second woman minister in Dasanglu Pul. The first to be appointed as a minister was Komoli Mossang. She made history in 1988 by becoming a deputy minister. She was appointed as a cabinet minister in 1990.

The 46-year-old Dasanglu is a 12th pass and wife of former Chief Minister Kalikho Pul. She was among 10 BJP candidates who had won the April 19 Assembly elections uncontested. Dasanglu was elated after her induction into the Pema Khandu ministry. "I am very happy. The women of the state are happy. The BJP has appointed a woman as a minister. I thank the BJP government and the Chief Minister on behalf of the women of the state," she said. She said all women present at the swearing-in ceremony clapped when her name was called out to take oath. She said this showed how happy the women of the state were on her appointment.

"From the beginning, the BJP has been working relentlessly for the empowerment of women in the state," Dasanglu said. She was a social worker prior to her election to the Assembly in 2016. She had then won a by-election from the Hayuliang constituency in eastern Arunachal.

Gehlot schemes come under Rajasthan BJP govt scrutiny

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AFTER the poll code of conduct was lifted, the Bhajan Lal government in Rajasthan has ordered a review of the decisions made during the final year of the previous Ashok Gehlot dispensation.

Sharma has appointed a sub-committee to look into the formation of 19 districts and three divisions, a strategic move by Gehlot before the assembly polls. The sub-committee includes Deputy Chief Minister Prem Chand Bairwa and ministers Rajyavardhan Singh Rathore, Kanhaiyalal Meena, Suresh Rawat and Hemant Meena.

If the committee's report is unfavourable, some districts might face dissolution, sources in the government said.

The BJP had criticised the creation of new districts under Gehlot's tenure following local protests against many of the smaller districts. The BJP had vowed to review the districts if they came to power.

In another significant move, more than 2,000 Mahatma Gandhi English medium schools in Rajasthan may be converted to Hindi medium. The education department last month sought reports from district authorities on the current status of these schools, including teacher and student numbers, to determine whether to continue them as Hindi medium institutions.

"This review will also consider alignment with the central government's new education policy," an official said. The previous Gehlot government had transformed about 2070 government schools into English medium institutions, naming them Mahatma Gandhi English Medium Schools.

Education Minister Madan Dilawar said, "The government is assessing the necessity of Mahatma Gandhi English Medium Schools in Rajasthan. Decisions will be based on this review and whether the schools meet the new education policy standards."

The BJP government is also considering the closure or merger of about 100 colleges established under the Rajasthan College Education Society (RajCES) during the Congress government's term.

"Reports indicate several flaws in these institutions. A high-powered committee will review 303 such colleges," an official said. The committee, chaired by Kota Open University Vice Chancellor Kailash Sodani, includes six members.

"The committee will evaluate these colleges based on student enrollment, regional necessity, and alignment with the National Education Policy, and will submit a report within 30 days," the official said.

An internal report suggests that many colleges were opened without necessity, making their operation detrimental to students and government. Out of the 303 colleges, only 25 have their own buildings and 278 operate in rented premises.

Again, Gujarat govt & civic officials come under HC fire over Rajkot fire

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

FOR a second time in a month, the Gujarat High Court came down heavily on the state government on Thursday over the Rajkot TRP Game Zone fire incident that killed 27 people, including children, on May 25.

Presided over by Chief Justice Sunita Agarwal, a two-judge bench in a suo motu hearing remarked, "Why does the government cover a contractor in such incidents? Municipal commissioners are sleeping."

The High Court characterized the fire as exceptionally catastrophic in comparison to other recent incidents. The bench warned that officers would be held accountable, emphasing that negligence would not be tolerated.

The High Court remarked, "Why does the government shield the contractor in these cases? Municipal commissioners are neglecting their duties, which lead to these accidents. From now onwards, no municipal commissioner will be given another chance," observed the court. "The incident may seem minor to you, but now you will not be able to protect the officers," the judges stated.

The court highlighted similar tragedies in Morbi and Harni, questioning why the government consistently protected its contractors. The court condemned the municipal commissioner, attributing the frequent accidents to the negligence and inaction of municipal officials. The High Court has asked the government to submit a final fact-finding report by June 16. The court instructed the government to reveal the fire safety measures implemented statewide in the educational sector, including comprehensive fire safety assessment in district and urban divisions.

The fire at TRP Game Zone, a gaming arcade in Rajkot, killed 27 people. Investigations have revealed that the arcade was operating without a fire licence.

In a previous hearing, the court assailed the civic body and the state government after it became known that the gaming arcade that caught fire was not the only one to be running without a fire licence. In Rajkot two other gaming zones were operating for over two years without permits, including fire safety certificates.

The court was hearing a petition that claimed that the fire safety Act, as directed by the SC, is not followed in the state. The petition also claimed that there was laxity in the investigation. After the Rajkot fire incident, the state came up with draft rules to ensure safety at recreation facilities.

Fix accountability, no compromise with human lives: CM Patel

Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel confronted government officials during a public event on the Rajkot fire incident and emphasised accountability. "We have to think about where we made a mistake. When it comes to human life, there should be no compromise." Patel presented a cheque for ₹2,111 crore for the development of various civic bodies. He questioned why some corporations failed to utilize allocated funds. He said a delay in approvals resulted in financial loss.

Cracks in NDA come out wide open in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

INTERNAL conflict within ruling National Democratic Alliance (NDA) in Bihar has come to the fore with results of the Lok Sabha elections announced and formation of BJP-led coalition government at the centre.

BJP, a major ally of NDA, could win only 12 out of 17 seats it contested in the election. Its ally--Janata Dal (United), which contested 16 seats, however, emerged victorious on equal number of seats that BJP won in the election. Two other allies — LJP (RV) won five seats and HAM one seat, respectively.

On Thursday, former BJP MP from Gaya (SC) seat Hari Manjhi alleged that state BJP president and Bihar's deputy chief minister Samrat Choudhary failed to transfer votes of his own caste—Kushwaha—in favour of NDA candidates.

Kushwahas before the polls were considered to be supporters of NDA. But the equation changed in the 2024 election and 'INDIA' fielded candidates from Kushwaha community on some key constituencies. Manjhi, two-time (ex) MP from Gaya, raised questions on Samrat Choudhary leadership and said that he could not win confidence of members of his caste despite a whirl-wind campaign.

After election debacle, Ajit Pawar's wife may be elected to RS unopposed

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA deputy chief minister Ajit Pawar's spouse Sunetra Pawar was the lone candidate for the Rajya Sabha election, filling in for Praful Patel's vacant place. Today was the last day for the nomination.

When Sunetra filed her papers on Thursday, she was not accompanied by any BJP or Shinde-led Shiv Sena leader. That led to speculation that BJP might dump Ajit Pawar-led NCP as an ally, especially after an RSS snub that Ajit's alignment with BJP damaged the latter in the Lok Sabha polls.

Sunetra recently lost the Lok Sabha election against NCP (SP) Supriya Sule in Baramati by a margin of over 1.50 lakh votes. The Ajit Pawar-led NCP is a BJP ally while Sule contested as a party candidate on behalf of the 3-party alliance Maha Vikas Aghadi.

Baramati was a high-voltage election for both Sharad Pawar and his nephew Ajit. Ajit Pawar is MLA from Baramati so he also got a setback as his spouse trailed by over 48,000 votes in the assembly segment of the Baramati parliamentary seat.

NCP minister Chhagan Bhujbal was also interested in the Rajya Sabha seat but eventually agreed when other NCP leaders decided to nominate Sunetra.

Asked if key posts were going to one family, Bhujbal maintained Ajit Pawar did not decide Sunetra Pawar's nomination. Asked whether he was disappointed over not being fielded in the Rajya Sabha polls, the state cabinet minister shot back: "Can you see it on my face? I have learnt to respect collective decision-making and have been doing it for 57 years. Be it the Shiv Sena or NCP, decisions are taken after discussions with people and not as per one person's will."

RSS has right to pull up BJP: Maha minister

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

DAYS after the RSS talked tough over the BJP's Lok Sabha poll performance, Maharashtra BJP minister Chandrakant Patil said on Thursday that the RSS being their parent body has the right give critical assessments to the BJP for course correction. A write-up in RSS mouthpiece Organiser criticised the BJP for allying with Ajit Pawar-led NCP leader, saying the alliance devalued the "brand value" of the BJP. RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat also criticised the BJP-led Centre for its inaction in Manipur and arrogance of the party leaders.

"We take RSS advice like each parent gives to their children. If children make some mistake, the parents do scold and give suggestions that does not mean parents are against the children. RSS has full right to scold and speak their mind on any issue," said Patil.

The minister said they follow the advice of the RSS like obedient children. "We do not like arrogant children disobey parents' advice and ask questions. RSS has full right and authority to correct our mistakes," the BJP leader said. NCP leader Chhagan Bhujbal said BJP has not lost badly in Maharashtra like it did in UP.

Global business summit in Nov stands cancelled after rise in bird flu cases

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

CHIEF Minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday said that this year the state government will not hold the Bengal Global Business Summit which was scheduled in November owing to a spurt of bird flu cases.

According to Banerjee, although no cases have been reported yet in Bengal, a team of health department officials have been formed to assess the ground situation. She feels that the situation is not conducive to hold a global business summit as hundreds of delegates from outside Bengal come every year.

The state has already conducted a screening of around 29,000 birds from Kaliachak in Malda district and the district officials are in the process of screening more birds.

It may be mentioned that a four-year-old girl from the district was diagnosed with the disease in January and recovered after treatment. After that incident bird flu scare again erupted in Bengal and thus health department officials are looking after the situation. Last year Banerjee proposed an investment proposal of ₹3.76 lakhs crore at the 7 th Bengal Business Summit.

Last year the country's top industrialists, from Reliance Industries chairman and managing director Mukesh Ambani to Harshvardhan Neotia and Sajjan Jindal attended the seventh edition of the Bengal Global Business Summit (BGBS). Apart from them a host of foreign delegates joined the Summit. Last year the focus areas are two sectors – manufacturing and industries and infrastructure, including energy and transport.

Out to douse Almora fire, 4 members of forest dept team burnt to death

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

FOUR forest workers died trying to douse a forest fire near Binsar Wildlife Sanctuary, in the Civil Soyam Forest Division of Almora. Four other forest workers, who were seriously injured in this incident, have been rushed to the Haldwani Base Hospital for treatment.

According to the information received by this newspaper, on Thursday, a team of eight members from the forest department arrived at the Binsar Sanctuary in Almora district upon receiving information about unknown individuals setting fire in the jungle. Unfortunately, this team fell victim to the fierce blaze, resulting in the death of four forest personnel on spot. The department's Bolero vehicle was also reduced to ashes.

Parag Madhukar Dhakate, special secretary to the chief minister, said in an official statement that the government is closely monitoring the incident.

"Upon receiving news of a Bolero vehicle carrying eight forest personnel being trapped in the rapidly spreading forest fire, the forest department staff swiftly responded to the scene," disclosed Special Secretary Dhakate. In light of this tragic incident, an emergency rescue team was promptly dispatched to the incident site.

Confirming the deaths of four individuals in the forest fire in Binsar, Divisional Forest Officer (DFO) Dhruv Singh Martolia told this daily, "Four people, including forest guards, perished in the blaze, while four others, including the driver, suffered severe burns and have been taken to the hospital in Haldwani."

Farooq, Omar agree to disagree on contesting J&K Assembly election

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE National Conference president and three-time former J&K Chief Minister Farooq Abdullah has disagreed with his son and former CM Omar Abdullah not contesting the Assembly polls saying he has to contest the polls and not make it conditional to restoration of statehood to J&K UT.

"Omar says he does not want to contest the Assembly election in UT. He will have to fight the elections. I am trying to persuade him to contest Assembly elections whether J&K is UT or state," Abdullah told reporters today.

After abrogation of Article 370 and bifurcation of erstwhile J&K state into two UTs, Omar had said he won't contest the Assembly polls till statehood is restored to J&K.

He recently reiterated his stand on not contesting the Assembly polls in UT.

"I will lead the campaign of my party in the Assembly polls as and when they are held in J&K UT. But I will not contest the polls as I don't want to humiliate myself by entering a

Zahoor Punjabi

UT Assembly," said Omar, who lost the recently held parliament election from Baramulla seat to independent candidate and two-time ex MLA Er Rashid, who is lodged in Delhi's Tihar jail.

In UT, Lt Governor wields more power than Chief Minister. In J&K UT, the functions of "police, public order, All India Services and anti-corruption" will fall under the purview of Lieutenant Governor. The Chief Minister or his council of ministers will have no say in the functioning of the services in J&K UT.

However, Farooq Abdullah stressed that his son Omar will have to contest the Assembly polls as J&K people want relief and that cannot be provided to them till "we contest Assembly polls". "There is a mess in J&K and we have to give relief to the public and resolve their issues of concern. There is growing unemployment and rising inflation. We have to resolve the public issues and provide relief to them," Abdullah said.

Jammu and Kashmir is under direct central rule since June 2018 and the Supreme Court in December last year directed the Election Commission to hold Assembly polls in J&K before September 30, 2024.

NOTICE UNDER SECTION 13(2) OF THE SECURITISATION AND RECONSTRUCTION OF FINANCIAL ASSETS AND ENFORCEMENT OF SECURITY INTEREST ACT, 2002 HEREINAFTER CALLED "THE ACT".

At your request, you have been granted by the Koteshwara Sahakari Bank Niyamitha, through its Chamarajpet Branch from time to time, various credit facilities by way of financial assistance against various assets creating security interest in favour of the Bank for which various loaning documents were executed by you. The relevant particulars of the said credit facilities and the amount outstanding repayable by you is as stated in Schedule-A. You have availed the financial assistance with an undertaking for repayment of the said financial assistance in terms of the said agreement(s)/document(s) duly executed in favour of the bank.

You have also created mortgage by way of deposit of title deeds/mortgage/s creating security interest in favour of the Bank. You have also offered hypothecation of the assets belonging to you. The particulars of the secured assets are specifically stated in Schedule-B.

You have also acknowledged subsistence of the liability in respect of the aforesaid credit facilities by executing confirmation of balances and revival letters and other documents from time to time. The operation and conduct of the above said financial assistance/credit facilities have become irregular and the debt has been classified as Non-Performing Asset on 17/05/2024 (A/c.No. IP 308 & FIL 12) in accordance with the directives/guidelines relating to asset classifications issued by the Reserve Bank of India consequent to the default committed by you in repayment of principal debt and interest thereon. Despite repeated requests, you have failed and neglected to repay the said dues/outstanding liabilities.

Therefore, the bank hereby calls upon you under section 13(2) of the said Act Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 by issuing this notice to discharge in full your liabilities stated hereunder to the bank within 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice. Your outstanding liabilities (in aggregate) due and owing to the bank is in sum of Rs. 26,88,207/- (Rupees Twenty Six Lakhs Eighty Eight Thousand Two Hundred Seven Rupees Only) as on 29.05.2024 plus (Excluding interest and other charges from 30.05.2024). You are also liable to pay future interest at the contractual rate on the aforesaid amount together with incidental expenses, costs, charges, etc.

If you fail to repay to the bank the aforesaid sum of Rs. 26,88,207/- (Rupees Twenty Six Lakhs Eighty Eight Thousand Two Hundred Seven Rupees Only) as on 29.05.2024 plus (Excluding interest and other charges from 30.05.2024). with further interest and incidental expenses and costs as stated above in terms of this notice under section 13(2) of the Act, the bank will exercise all or any of the rights detailed under sub-section (4) of section 13 and under other applicable provisions of the said Act.

The bank reserves its rights to call upon you to repay the liabilities that may arise under the outstanding bills discounted, bank guarantees and letters of credit issued and established on your behalf as well as other contingent liabilities.

This notice of demand is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which the bank may have including further demands for the sums found due and payable by you to us.

* We reserve our rights to enforce other secured assets

G7 begins with deal on Russian collateral

Pact on US proposal of $50 bn loan to Ukraine by leveraging frozen Russian assets; Pope to address for first time

BORGO EGNAZIA

A Group of Seven summit opened Thursday with agreement on a US proposal to back a $50 billion loan to Ukraine using frozen Russian assets as collateral, giving Kyiv a strong show of support even as Europe's political chessboard shifts to the right.

Italian Premier Giorgia Meloni welcomed the heads of state of the G7 leading industrialised nations to a luxury resort in southern Italy, saying she wanted the message of the meeting to be one of dialogue with the global south and unity.

She likened the G7 to the ancient olive trees that are a symbol of the Puglia region, "with their solid roots, and branches projected toward the future." Beyond discussions on Ukraine, the war in Gaza and China's industrial policy, Pope Francis will become the first pope to address a G7 summit, adding a dash of celebrity and moral authority to the annual gathering.

He'll be speaking on Friday about the promises and perils of artificial intelligence, but is expected to also renew his appeal for a peaceful end to Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine and the Israel-Hamas war in Gaza.

The G7 includes Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United Kingdom and the United States. Italy, which is hosting the summit, has invited several African leaders — Algerian President Abdelmadjid Tebboune, Kenyan President William Ruto and Tunisian President Kis Saied — to press Meloni's development and migration initiatives on the continent.

Other guests include Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Turkish President Erdogan. With Biden, UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and now French President Emmanuel Macron facing elections in the coming months, pressure was on the G7 to get done what it can while the status quo lasts.

The US proposal involves engineering a $50 billion loan to help Ukraine in its fight against Russia that would use interest earned on profits from Russia's frozen central bank assets, most of them held in the European Union, as collateral. AP

NATO def ministers brainstorm for security, support for Ukraine

BRUSSELS

NATO defence ministers gathered Thursday hoping to agree on a new plan to provide long-term security assistance and military training to Ukraine amid Russia's full-scale invasion, after Hungary promised not to veto the proposal as long as it's not forced to take part.

The ministers are meeting over two days at NATO headquarters in Brussels in the last high-level talks before a summit hosted by US President Joe Biden in Washington on July 9-11, where the military organisation's leaders are expected to announce financial support for Ukraine.

Ukraine's Western allies are trying to bolster their military support as Russian troops launch attacks along the more than 1,000-km frontline, taking advantage of a lengthy delay in US military aid. European Union money was also held up by political infighting.

NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg, centre, and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Charles Brown, right, speak with Ukraine's Defence Minister Rustem Umerov at NATO headquarters in Brussels on Thursday | AP

NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg, who is chairing Thursday's meeting, said that Ukraine's beleaguered armed forces need longer-term predictability about the kinds of weapons, ammunition and funds they can expect to receive. "The whole idea is to minimise the risk for gaps and delays as we saw earlier this year," Stoltenberg told reporters. The hold-up, he said, "is one of the reasons why the Russians are now able to push and to actually occupy more land in Ukraine."

Since Russia's full-fledged invasion in February 2022, Ukraine's Western backers have routinely met as part of the Ukraine Defense Contact Group, run by the Pentagon, to drum up weapons and ammunition for Kyiv. A fresh meeting was held at NATO headquarters on Thursday. AP

Free-for-all in Italian Parliament over plan to grant more autonomy

ROME

A brawl in the Italian parliament over the far-right government's plans to grant regions more autonomy has triggered uproar, with some comparing the punch-up to the days of fascism. The fight broke out on Wednesday evening after Five Star Movement (MS5) deputy Leonardo Donno tried to tie an Italian flag around the neck of regional affairs minister Roberto Calderoli of the pro-autonomy Northern League. Donno's stunt was intended to denounce plans to grant more autonomy from Rome to those regions that want it. Critics argue that it undermines Italy's unity.

In response, Calderoli's fellow League deputies left their benches en masse to mob Donno, and the debate descended into a free-for-all involving some 20 men.

Donno, injured in the scuffles, had to be evacuated in a wheelchair before being sent to hospital. The brawl provoked a torrent of reactions from political leaders and made the front pages of the Italian newspapers. Many criticised the example set by the elected representatives. "The squadrist right is fighting in parliament," the newspaper La Repubblica lamented, using a term used to describe the post-World War I paramilitary forces that went on to become fascist leader Benito Mussolini's infamous Blackshirts.

Italy's leading daily Corriere della Sera said the house had turned into a "boxing ring".

Lawmakers from the League and the Brothers of Italy, Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni's party, accused Donno of provoking the incident and even faking his injuries.

The M5S denounced a "serious and shameful attack" and called for immediate measures. "Violence comes from the benches of the Meloni majority... Shame," its leader, Giuseppe Conte, wrote on social media network X. AP

SOUTH AFRICA PARTIES COBBLE TOGETHER UNITY GOVERNMENT

JOHANNESBURG: SOUTH African lawmakers are expected to elect the country's president on Friday after being sworn in at the first sitting of Parliament that will also reveal the kind of unity government that the ruling African National Congress has managed to cobble together after losing its majority for the first time ever since 1994. The lawmakers are also expected to elect Parliament's new speaker and deputy speaker, choices that will be determined by negotiations that have taken place between the ANC and opposition parties since the country's election results were declared nearly two weeks ago. Parties are under pressure to conclude negotiations by Thursday to fulfill the constitutional requirement to swear in lawmakers and elect the president within 14 days of election results being declared. The African National Congress won 40% of the national vote during the country's highly contested election, followed by the Democratic Alliance, or DA, with just over 21% and the newly formed uMkhonto weSizwe Party with about 15% of the vote in their first-ever election. First GST Council meet under new govt on June 22

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council will convene its first meeting under the newly-formed government on June 22, 2024. This meeting comes after a hiatus of nearly nine months since the 52nd meeting held on October 7, 2023.

There are several pending issues before the Council that need to be addressed. The online gaming industry has been awaiting review of 28% GST applicable on the sector. A number of online gaming companies are grappling with GST notices for the payment of taxes related to past years. Many of them have even filed writ petitions against such notices.

Besides this, clarity needs to be issued on the inverted duty structure (IDS) for various sectors including textiles and fertlizers, so this too can be discussed in the meeting, according to experts. Meanwhile, GST rate rationalisation on certain items could also be taken up in the 53rd GST Council meeting.

Also, the Council may issue clarifications regarding the taxability of corporate guarantee under the GST law between related parties.

The debate revolves around the calculation of taxable value based on actual amount utilised by the beneficiary when the guaranteed amount exceeds the utilisation. In addition, there is a call for clarity on whether this change should apply prospectively or retrospectively. In October, the GST Council had announced corporate guarantees for bank loans given by the parent company to its subsidiary would attract 18%.

Pending issues

There are several pending issues before the Council that need to be addressed. The online gaming industry has been awaiting review of 28% GST on the sector. Many online gaming companies are grappling with GST notices for payment of taxes related to past years

Rajat Bose, Partner, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas & Co, said, "The GST Council meeting scheduled on June22, being the first of the new government, has a full plate of agenda items on its hands. There is a need to address key industry issue like taxation of online gaming and the promised review of the valuation rules introduced in October 2023. Other items include discussion and feedback from state finance ministers on the Union Budget of 2024 and other key policy initiatives to be launched by the new government."

In addition, Abhishek Rastogi, founder of Rastogi Chambers, said, "There are certain key issues such as tax on online gaming, blocked credit for real estate sector, valuation for corporate guarantee, cross charges and denial of credit when vendors have defaulted, which are expected to be pragmatically addressed by the GST council."

Ambuja acquires Penna Cement for ₹10,422 cr

Co says indicative time period for completion of deal is three-four months, will be fully funded via internal accruals

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE Adani group-owned Ambuja Cements has acquired 100% equity from the promoters of the Hyderabad-based Penna Cement--P Pratap Reddy and family -- for ₹10,422 crore, as the ports-to-airports-to-energy conglomerate seeks to ramp up its cement play, which began in 2022 with the acquisition of Ambuja Cements and ACC.

In an exchange filing on Thursday, . The move will increase the already competitive cement market, which is currently dominated by the Birlas-owned Ultratech with an annual capacity of 146 million tonne, while Adani's current capacity is just half of that at about 79 mtpa across 18 plants, which gives it a 14% market share.

With 550 mtpa capacity, the country is the second-largest cement maker in the world after China's 1.5 billion tonne as of 2022. Adani groupsaid the entire acquisition cost will be met via internal accruals.

SANGHI INDUSTRIES FOR ₹5,000 CRORE IN LATE 2023

Ambuja will acquire 100% shares of Penna from its promoter group P Pratap Reddy and family. The acquisition will be fully funded through internal accruals, said the cash-rich company that is also fully debt-free. As of March 2024, it was sitting on a cash pile of over ₹24,300 crore and had a ₹8,300 crore warranty money from the promoters.

"The acquisition is a significant step forward in Ambuja Cement's accelerating growth journey," said Ajay Kapur, CEO, Ambuja Cements. Penna's consolidated turnover for the last three years stood at ₹1,241 crore (FY24), ₹2,002 crore (FY23 and ₹3,204 crore in FY22, he said.

Penna Cement was incorporated in October 1991 in Hyderabad, and has cement manufacturing in Sri Lanka as well apart from the domestic market, directly and via its subsidiaries. It has an installed capacity of 10 mtpa now and is reportedly adding 5.5 mtpa.

The Adanis entered the cement business in August 2022 by acquiring stakes of Swiss Holcim in Ambuja Cements and its subsidiary ACC for $6.4 billion, of which $4.5 billion were raised in debt.

Of the $4.5 billion debt funded deal, the billionaire Gautam Adani-controlled group had already refinanced $3.5 billion loan as of October 2023 from 10 international banks such as Deutsche Bank, Standard Chartered Bank, Barclays, Citibank, MUFG Bank, Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corp and other lenders. Late last year, Ambuja had acquired 56.74% stake in Gujarat-based Sanghi Industries, valuing the latter at ₹5,000 crore. The group has set an internal target of jacking up its cement capacity to 140 mtap from the present 79 mtpa and ramp up its market share from the present 14% to 20% or more.

VIL issues ₹2,458 cr equities to Nokia, Ericsson

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

VODAFONE IDEA (VIL), India's third-largest telecom service provider, approved allotment of 166 crore equity shares worth ₹2,458 crore to two of its key vendors, Nokia Solutions and Networks India Private Limited, and Ericsson India Private Limited.

The move will help the debt-laden telco to roll out a 5G network in and improve its 4G services as both Nokia and Ericsson are key suppliers of network equipment. This allotment will also enable VIL to clear part of its outstanding dues owed to its vendors.

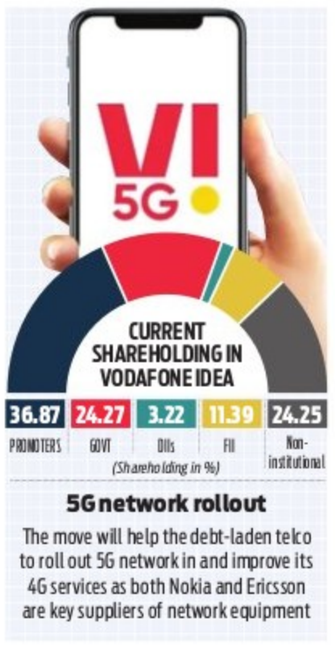
This is perhaps the first time any telco in the country is issuing its shares to procure network equipment. Post this preferential issuance, the shareholding of Nokia and Ericsson in the company will be 1.5% and 0.9%, respectively. The telco, in a statement, said Nokia and Ericsson will participate for up to ₹1,520 crore and ₹938 crore, respectively, subject to approval by VIL shareholders at the EGM to be held on July 10, 2024.

"As VIL embarks on its growth journey, support from key stakeholders is critical and the agreement with Nokia and Ericsson reaffirms these vendors as long-term partners of the company, and sets the stage for the next phase of our growth," said Akshaya Moondra, CEO, VIL.

VIL said with this equity issuance, it has raised ₹24,000 crore. This includes the conversion of 1,440 OCDs in March by ATC India (out of 1,600 OCDs issued), FPO issue in April 24, and preferential issue to promoters in May 2024. The telco is in talks with its lenders to raise debt funding of ₹25,000 crore.

"This fundraise (equity and debt) will empower the company to work towards executing its strategy including expansion of its 4G coverage and launch of 5G services," said the company. It approved the preferential allotment of 166 crore equity shares of face value of ₹10 each at an issue price of ₹14.80 per share. This preferential allotment price is higher by 35% to the FPO price and comes with a lock-in of 6 months.

Currently, the Promoter (ABG and Vodafone) shareholding will stand at 37.3%, and the shareholding of the Government of India will stand at 23.2%, while the balance 37.1% will be public shareholding.



5G network rollout

The move will help the debt-laden telco to roll out 5G network in and improve its 4G services as both Nokia and Ericsson are key suppliers of network equipment

Punch, Nexon EV get 5-star rating in Bharat NCAP test

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HOMEGROWN auto-major Tata Motors has received two new five-star Bharat NCAP safety ratings–for its Punch and Nexon EVs.

These two models are the first electric vehicles (EVs) to receive the top rating under the Bharat New Car Assessment Program (BNCAP). Tata Harrier and Safari SUVs were the first cars in India to receive a 5-star safety rating from BNCAP in December last year.

While the Punch.ev received the highest ever scores achieved by any vehicle till date – 31.46/32 and 45/49 points for adult occupant protection (AOP) and child occupant protection (COP) respectively, the Nexon.ev scored 29.86/32 and 44.95/49 points for AOP and COP respectively.

Nitin Gadkari, Minister of Road Transport and Highways of India, said, "The certification aligns with the Indian government's vision for safer vehicles in the country and emphasizes the role of Bharat-NCAP in making India's automobile industry 'aatmanirbhar'. The Bharat-NCAP car safety standard is pivotal in realizing the government's vision to make India a global automobile hub and increase its export worthiness in International markets."

Bharat NCAP, set up on the lines of Global-NCAP, voluntarily tests new passenger vehicles for assessment and promotes the universal adoption of the United Nation's most important motor vehicle safety standards worldwide.

Launched in August 2023, Bharat NCAP applies to the M1 category of vehicles with a gross weight of less than or equal to 3,500kg.

G Kishan Reddy assumes charge as coal minister

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

G Kishan Reddy assumed the role of Minister of Coal and Mines on Thursday. Former Union Minister of Coal, Mines, and Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi handed over the charge to Reddy in the presence of Minister of State, Coal and Mines, Satish Chandra Dubey. Minister of State Satish Chandra Dubey officially assumed charge on June 11, 2024.

V L Kantha Rao, Secretary, Ministry of Mines, Amrit Lal Meena, Secretary, Ministry of Coal and other senior officials were also present. Reddy expressed gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi for entrusting him with the responsibility to serve as the Union Minister and for the opportunity to serve the people of Bharat. He said both ministries will work with determination, devotion, dedication and honesty.

NCLT puts on hold Byju's rights issue, asks to park funds in escrow account

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a setback to edtech firm Byju's, the Bengaluru bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) has restrained the company from going ahead with the ongoing second rights issue, and has asked it to park the funds collected so far in a separate account till the disposal of the main petition.

The subscription for the second rights issue began on May 13 and was scheduled to conclude on June 13, 2024.

"In the present facts and circumstances of the matter, this tribunal restrains the respondents (Byju's) from going ahead with the rights issue, which is in progress, till the disposal of the main CP No. 18/BB/2024."

"The respondents are directed to keep the amounts collected so far since opening of the second rights issue in relation to this offer in a separate account which should not be utilised till disposal of the main petition," the NCLT bench comprising Justices S S Sundaram and Manoj Kumar Dubey said.

The main petition against the $200 million rights issue was filed by investors of Byju's requesting the NCLT to put a hold on the issue as an interim relief and requested for status-quo order on altering the shareholding of the edtech firm.

The investors had submitted before the NCLT that there are serious allegations of siphoning off funds by the promoters of Byju's and probe have been initiated by the ED and Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) against the company.

The first issue was launched in January-February. The company failed to achieve the target of $200 million via issue, and therefore initiated a second rights issue to enable additional pro-rata subscriptions to attain its capital-raising target.

Bringing down airfares top priority: Aviation minister

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

KINJARAPU Rammohan Naidu, who assumed office as the Union Civil Aviation minister on Thursday, said that his top priority is to bring down airfares which have skyrocketed in recent times.

He added that it is very important for airfares to remain affordable for India to become the leading domestic aviation market in the world.

"Since the time I have been announced as civil aviation minister. Wherever I go, people have been mentioning that the prices have increased over the last few years, especially after Covid. I need a thorough understanding of the issue, so, I am going to sit with the stakeholders," said Naidu.

Wherever I go, people have been mentioning that the prices have increased over last few years, especially after Covid

Kinjarapu Rammohan Naidu, aviation minister

On the back of high demand and low capacity addition by airlines, airfares have seen a sharp surge in recent times. As per data from Thomas Cook (India) and SOTC Travel, ticket prices on major domestic routes like Kolkata-Bagdogra, Delhi-Bengaluru, and Delhi-Mumbai have seen a yearly rise of up to 12.7% in May.

"...we will make civil aviation or the air travel in this country more approachable to the common man of this country, and more easily accessible...I'm stressing the word ease of flying, let it be, in the sense of the comfort, or the convenience or the safety, security, whatever aspects it comes regarding the passenger that is choosing air travel, we would make him the core of whatever planning or thought process we are going through today," Naidu said.

BSE-listed cos' m-cap hits record ₹431.67 L cr

Rupee falls 7 paise to close at 83.55 against US dollar

NEW DELHI: Rupee settled for the day lower by 7 paise at 83.55 (provisional) against US dollar on Thursday even as both domestic equity benchmark indices touched all-time high. Forex traders said rupee was seen resilient against dollar, even after volatility witnessed in the dollar index, due to CPI data and US Fed's policy decision. At the interbank foreign exchange, the local unit opened at 83.52 and settled lower by 7 paise at 83.55.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE combined market capitalisation (m-cap) of BSE-listed companies hit a fresh record of ₹431.67 lakh crore on Thursday as the benchmark Sensex reached its new lifetime high level.

Rising for the second day in a row, the BSE benchmark jumped 538.89 points or 0.70 to hit its lifetime peak of 77,145.46.

The Sensex later ended at a fresh record high at 76,810.90, up 204.33 points or 0.27%.

In two days, investors' wealth has risen by ₹4.72 lakh crore.

"The domestic equity benchmark traded with a modest gain, with domestic CPI data indicating that inflation is on a slow track of decline," according to Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services.

Retail inflation continued its downward slide to reach a one-year low of 4.75% in May due to a marginal decline of prices in the food basket and remained within the Reserve Bank's comfort zone of below 6 per cent, according to government data released on Wednesday.

Among the 30 Sensex companies, Mahindra & Mahindra, Titan, Larsen & Toubro, IndusInd Bank, Tech Mahindra, UltraTech Cement, Wipro, Tata Consultancy Services, Bajaj Finance and Nestle were the biggest gainers. On the other hand, Hindustan Unilever, Power Grid, Axis Bank, Bharti Airtel, ICICI Bank and ITC were among the laggards.

In the broader market, the BSE small-cap gauge climbed 0.89%, and midcap index rallied 0.79%. Among the indices, realty jumped 2.15%, capital goods (2.05 per cent), industrials (1.67%), IT (1.08%) and consumer discretionary (0.88%).

In contrast, telecommunication, bankex and metal were the laggards. A total of 2,345 stocks advanced, 1,539 declined, and 100 remained unchanged on the BSE.

Federal Reserve officials said on Wednesday that inflation has fallen further toward their target level in recent months but signalled that they expect to cut their benchmark interest rate just once this year.

The policymakers' forecast for one rate cut was down from a previous forecast of three, likely because inflation, despite having cooled in the past two months, remains persistently elevated.

CII estimates India's GDP growth for FY25 at 8%; says key sectors to do well

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CONFEDERATION of Indian Industry (CII) has estimated India's gross domestic product (GDP) to grow at 8% in the financial year 2024-25, Sanjiv Puri, CII's newly elected president said on Thursday.

Puri's optimism comes as he believes that all the key sectors of the economy - manufacturing, agriculture and services – will log healthy growth this year on the back of continuous reforms, healthy public capex and favourable monsoon among other green shoots.

CII's GDP growth projection is considerably higher than most economists forecast. For example, the World Bank on Tuesday maintained the GDP growth forecast for India at 6.6% for FY25. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) recently raised its FY25 growth forecast for India to 6.8% while the Asian Development Bank (ADB) has projected a 7% growth for the fiscal year.

"The growth rate is poised to touch 8% during the current year marking the fourth consecutive year of above 7%+ growth...The growth estimate hinges critically on addressing the unfinished reform agenda on priority, in addition to improvement in world trade prospects aiding our exports, twin engines of investment & consumption doing well and expectations of a normal monsoon among other factors," said Puri who also is chairman of ITC, the Kolkata-based hotel-to-cigarette conglomerate.

He estimated that the agriculture sector, aided by an above-normal monsoon prediction, is expected to grow at 3.7%, compared to 1.4% last year. However, growth in the manufacturing sector is likely to slow down from 9.3% in FY24 to 8.4% in FY25, due to the high base effect. For the services sector, Puri estimates 9% year-on-year growth compared to 7.9% growth last fiscal.

The industry body said the next set of GST reforms should bring the tax rate under the three-rate structure with moderation of rates. CII is also seeking the inclusion of petroleum products, electricity, and real estate under the GST ambit.

Wimbledon prize money to increase to a record 50mn pounds

Wimbledon's total prize money fund will rise to a record 50 million pounds (about $64 million), with the singles champions each earning 2.7 million pounds, All England Club officials announced at the annual spring briefing. The total amount is 5.3 million pounds more than last year, an increase of 11.9%.

As they take on Scotland in the first game, Germany would be hoping for revival on field, and reuniting people off it

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

LESS than one year out from the Euros, Germany were dreading this event. They were still feeling the tremors of a few meh campaigns at major events. Since winning the World Cup in 2014 and reaching the semis at the Euros in 2016, the ultimate tournament team had lost its steering — failing to advance out of the Groups at the 2018 and 2022 World Cups and losing to England 0-2 at the last Euros.

Certain players were scapegoated. A treble-winning Bayern Munich manager, Hansi Flick, was sacked. Results didn't improve. In September 2023, the German FA got Julian Nagelsmann to replace Flick. The squad needed an overhaul and it got one, gradually. It was a coup as he was wanted by some of the biggest European clubs.

Now, Nagelsmann has built a team in his own image. The result is that the three time European champions are going into a home event with quiet confidence. The players, some of whom played a big role in defeating favourites France, albeit in a friendly in March, will hope to marry hopes and expectations.

****

In a poll put out by ARD, a public broadcaster, one of the questions pertaining to the make-up of the team, with respect to race, became a huge talking point. 21% of the randomly selected 1304 people responded by saying yes when asked if they would prefer more white-skinned players in the side. Both Nagelsmann and defender Joshua Kimmich were shocked by the question. "I thought about it briefly and I have the feeling that we need to wake up a bit," the coach said last week. "There are people in Europe who have had to flee because of war, economic factors, environmental disasters, people who simply want to be taken in. We have to ask what are we doing?

"We in Germany are doing well and when we say something like that, I think it's crazy how we turn a blind eye and simply block out such things." Both of them agreed that question was racist. Nagelsmann went further to call the poll 'crap'. "We are playing a European Championship for everyone in the country," the 36-year-old said. "Anyone who can play top football is invited to be a national player and give their all for their country. That is what we are doing. I hope I never have to read about such a crap survey again."

Football can be a powerful tool to unite people. It acted as a balm when Germany last hosted a major event, the 2006 World Cup. Eighteen years on, the wider German society will hope it can.

****

If they thought that back-to-back World Cup group eliminations was the nadir, 2023 saw something even worse. The last time they endured back-to-back-to-back losses, they were known as West Germany. Overall, they had lost six times in 11 matches. But a few things changed between those losses and the last week of March, when they beat France and Netherlands in the space of four days. A fluid forward line comprising of Kai Havertz, Florian Wirtz, the 21-year-old Leverkusen attacker who hit double figures for goals and assists this season and Jamal Musiala, one of the brightest attackers to come out of the country in recent times, was deployed.

Voila. It's given Germany the necessary fluidity and creativity in attack with all three capable of inter-changing, linking play and progressing with the ball.

Further back, they also have the returning Toni Kroos, fresh off a Champions League-winning season with Real Madrid. The midfielder retired after the 2021 Euros but he's back for one last dance before retiring from the sport. Add in Gundogan, Antonio Rudiger, Manuel Neuer and Kimmich in the first XI, you have the makings of a solid team with the necessary sprinkling of stardust to go deep.

At the 2006 World Cup, an enterprising Germany reached the semi-finals. It kick-started a joyous ride which culminated with the World Cup eight years later. Can the school of 2024 do something similar?

BELGIUM

This is it, then. The likes of Romelu Lukaku, Kevin de Bruyne and Axel Witsel are back for one last hit at a major title. They have come close without ever featuring in a final (two quarter-finals and a semi-final at the 2018 World Cup) over the last eight years. In Europe, they have gone down in tight contests to the eventual winners in both 2016 and 2021, scant consolations. This time out, the old guard is ably supplemented by two exciting attackers, Jeremy Doku and Yokan Bakayoko. One thing to note, they are yet to lose under new management (14 games, 10 wins).

SLOVAKIA

A team that focuses primarily on the defensive aspect of the game, led by Milan Skriniar at the back. Newcastle goalkeeper Martin Dubravka is another recognisable face. During qualifying, they kept five clean sheets in 10 games and had no problems getting out of a group in second place. However, have found some goals of late, as they put four past Wales in a friendly a few days ago. In terms of midfield creativity, a lot will depend on Juraj Kucka and Stanislav Lobotka.

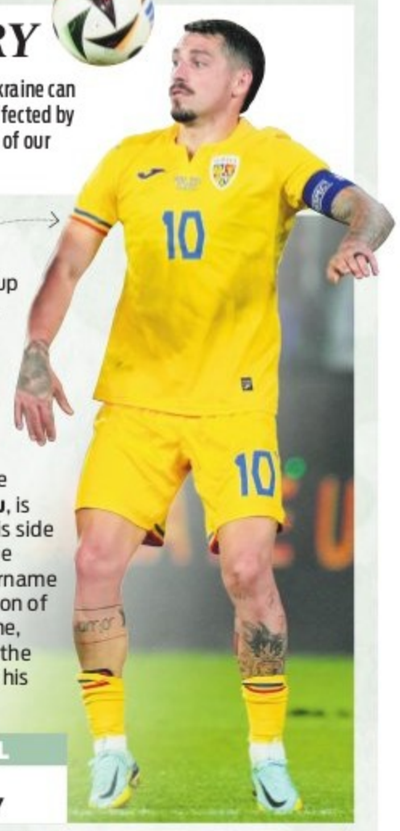
UKRAINE

Finished third behind Italy and England in the qualifiers but edged out Bosnia-Herzegovina and Iceland in the playoffs. They have had to play the home qualifying games in other countries because of the war. The war itself has given most of its players a new perspective on life. Drew Germany 0-0 a week ago in a friendly but there are some fine players waiting for the world to take notice. Artem Dovbyk was the top-scorer in La Liga and could be a handful. Elsewhere, there is real excitement over Georgiiy Sudakov, a 21-year-old attacker from Shakhtar.

CHAMPIONS: 1960 (AS PART OF USSR)
LAST TIME: QUARTERFINAL

ROMANIA



Another team in this group that plays with a low-to-mid block at best. In a group containing Switzerland, they did well to top it comfortably (six wins, four draws and only five goals conceded). Relative veteran, Nicolae Stanciu, is the creative engine of this side (no surprises that he's the captain). One famous surname — Hagi — returns. Ianis, son of the inspirational Gheorghe, has played 35 games for the national team but this is his first big tournament.

T20 ICC MEN'S T20 WORLD CUP WEST INDIES & USA 2024 JUNE 1-29 AMERICAN EXPEDITION

Time for Kiwis to hit reset button

GOMESH S @Chennai

Is it time for New Zealand to move on from skipper Kane Williamson? | AP

THE day is finally here. After back-to-back hammerings at the T20 World Cup, the latest being a 13-run defeat against West Indies on Wednesday, New Zealand are all but out of the global event.

From the outset, it would seem like two bad days cost New Zealand their chances and yet another opportunity to make it to a semifinal of an ICC event. But there's more to it. This WC and the results is a reflection, and perhaps, the end of a dominant decade New Zealand have had across formats. To put things into context, since the 2015 ODI WC, New Zealand men have played six semifinals and three finals in white-ball WCs and went on to win the inaugural World Test Championship. For a country with limited resources (both cricketing and financial), New Zealand always punched above their weight, thanks to the world-class players they have had in this era.

Perhaps, persisting with such players has hurt them this WC. The Kane Williamson-led side have too many players on the wrong side of 30s. The likes of Trent Boult, Tim Southee, Jimmy Neesham, Ish Sodhi and Williamson have been around since forever, and have won innumerable matches for them. New Zealand have persisted with them, and for good measure.

As many as seven players who featured against the West Indies were also part of the 2021 T20 WC final. They might have the experience but the T20 format has changed a great deal and their batters have struggled to keep up with the pace of the format. Williamson, who was with Gujarat Titans during the Indian Premier League, was not even a regular in the playing XI.

The diminishing relevance of batters like Williamson, who often plays the anchor, and the fact that New Zealand have multiple batters who of similar type is telling. Williamson, who comes in at No 4, has a T20I strike rate of 129.16 since 2023 while No 5 Daryl Mitchell has 135.63 during the same period.

If their batting issues are about having multiple anchors and similar kinds of players, bowling concerns are different. Boult, Southee, Mitch Santner are all among the top bowlers in the world, but there is a shift in the tide. Boult has already become a freelance international, opting out of a New Zealand central contract. And it should not come as a surprise if others follow suit.

Maybe, it is time for New Zealand to acknowledge that it is an end of an era for their golden generation, especially in the T20 format. It is time to move on, with the likes of Finn Allen, Rachin Ravindra, Glenn Phillips at the core. And the sooner they hit the reset button, the better chance they'll have at returning with a stronger side come the 2026 T20 WC.

Brief scores: WI 149/9 in 20 ovs (Rutherford 68 n.o; Boult 3/16, Southee 2/21, Ferguson 2/27) bt NZ 136/9 in 20 ovs (Phillips 40; Joseph 4/19, Motie 3/25).

Sports minister Mandaviya visits IOA office

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

Sports minister Mansukh Mandaviya visited IOA Bhawan and met IOA president PT Usha on Thursday. MoS for Sports Raksha Khadse was also present on the occasion

IN a rare and interesting move, the newly-appointed sports minister, Mansukh Mandaviya, visited the Olympic Bhawan and met Indian Olympic Association president PT Usha and other officials. He was accompanied by minister of state for sports Raksha Khadse.

Interestingly, the new sports minister had an hour-long meeting that was attended by sports secretary Sujata Chaturvedi and also Sports Authority of India (SAI) director general Sandip Pradhan. "I visited the IOA officials for the first time where they briefed me about India's preparation for Paris Olympics. The government is committed to extend all possible support," Mandaviya said.

Besides Olympic preparation, the discussions veered around welfare schemes for past Olympians and also spreading of Olympic movement in grassroots. Usha was happy that the sports minister had visited the IOA Bhawan. "The Sports Minister today visited IOA along with the Minister of State for Sports and I am so happy that they wanted to know about IOA and about Paris preparations. We will be in contact every week and I hope that this is good for our Olympic athletes," she said.

Conditions, the biggest challenge in Paris: Sailor Vishnu

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

IN January this year, Vishnu Saravanan, with his ILCA (International Laser Class Association) 7 class dinghy, became the first Indian sailor to qualify for the Paris Olympics via the World Championship. The 27-year-old secured the qualification as he finished 26th amongst 152 sailors in Adelaide to make it to his second consecutive Olympics.

With the earned experience in Tokyo, where he finished 20th out of 35, Saravanan is ready to face the newest challenge."In Tokyo, I was a bit fearless. I just went 'Okay, it's my first Olympics. I don't really care about the results. So I just want to sail my best and see where I land up.' And I did ok," he mentioned in a virtual media conference organised by Sports Authority of India. "Tokyo helped me grow as an athlete and mature as a person. That's what made me realise you have to keep being in the present and keep following the routine and that will lead to good things. Leading to Paris, I have more time to train and it has been going well so far," he mentioned.

Leading into the Olympics, Mumbai-based Army Subedar is practicing at the sailing Olympic venue in the port city of Marseille alongside the Olympic medalists from Cyprus and Croatia. "I've been lucky to be able to train in the Olympic waters and have such good training partners who actually won Olympic medals. I'm training with Pavlos Kontides and Ton i Stipanovi , who've been in the top five for many years. So it's quite a solid group. As I say, I am in the Army, but I've never been in the war. But when I'm sailing on the water with these guys, it feels like I'm at war every day because the intensity is super high and my heart rate never goes below 150," he said.

In the build up to the Worlds in January, Sarvanan was unable to focus. A loss in Thailand changed the way he looked at his chances of making it to the Olympics. "I was not able to focus, but it kind of sounds crazy, but at that time, I was hoping that I wouldn't qualify in Thailand because it's a continental qualifier. I would want to qualify through the World Championships because that's a higher difficulty level. So, I don't know, I was crazy when I was speaking with my psychologist and I said my brain just wants this. I didn't qualify in Thailand, which was okay," he added.

What followed in January was there for everyone to see when Saravanan confirmed the ticket to Paris, while competing against the cream of the crop. In his sophomore Olympics, Saravanan is aware of the challenges he will face in France. "The biggest challenge would be the conditions because it's so random. If you see the map of Marseille, it is like a marine drive, but with cliffs on the edges. When the wind comes in different directions, it's very challenging. I have to have a good start and a tactical advantage. That will be the most challenging part where the conditions would be much more difficult and different from other venues like Australia or Tokyo. It will be quite a nice challenge because there will be a lot of ups and downs," he said.

Bhowneesh finishes fourth

IT was a case of so near yet so far for trap shooter Bhowneesh Mendiratta on Thursday. Taking part in the ongoing ISSF World Cup in Lonato, the Indian narrowly missed out a medal after finishing fourth in the men's trap event.

After a slow start, Bhowneesh did very well to gun down the clay pigeons with authority and close the gap on the leaders. However, three misses from target 25 to 30 proved costly. Great Britain's MJ Coward-Holley was flawless at the start and after a few hiccups, he went on to win gold. Daniele Resca of Italy won the silver while Chinese Yu Haicheng claimed bronze.

The next day, four of them were fired; others were terminated later

'Cloud provides power to implement advanced AI and ML solutions'

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

MIGRATING to the cloud can be challenging for large enterprises despite its benefits. However, strategic planning and a comprehensive approach can effectively manage these challenges, says Anant Adya, executive vice-president and service offering head at Infosys.

In an interaction with this newspaper, he said: "The cloud helps save costs by reducing the need for large initial investments in IT infrastructure, allowing SMEs to pay only for what they use. It also provides flexibility and supports remote work and access to applications from anywhere."

Cloud provides the power and infrastructure to implement advanced AI and machine learning solutions as these technologies can automate tasks, optimise operations, and provide deeper insights into customer behaviour and market trends.

"With strong data analytics, businesses can uncover patterns and trends not seen before, helping them better understand markets and customers. The cloud also supports innovation by providing access to cutting-edge technologies and development platforms," he added.

ANANT ADYA
Executive Vice President and Service Offering Head, Infosys

Infosys' cloud brand Cobalt helps businesses use cloud technology and AI capabilities. It offers various cloud services, platforms and solutions to speed digital transformation.

On how GenAI is leveraged to enhance cloud capabilities, he said that by automating routine IT tasks such as setting up servers and installing security updates, AI could free up staff to focus on more important work. "AI could use data analysis to anticipate cloud resource needs and control costs, ensuring that businesses only pay for what they use. On the security side, AI could help protect cloud environments by recognising unusual activity and predicting potential threats, allowing for proactive measures to be taken," he added. AI could also customise the cloud experience for users by suggesting relevant services and providing intelligent support through chatbots and virtual assistants.

Cloud costs

Moving to the cloud includes initial fees, data transfer costs, and ongoing operational expenses such as computing, storage, and network use. There may also be costs for advanced services like AI, managed databases, and security services. According to Adya, organisations can manage these costs well with good planning and implementation.

"One important way to control cloud costs is through FinOps, which helps organisations understand their cloud spending, find ways to save money and optimise resource use. Typical FinOps strategies include matching resource sizes to actual use, using reserved instances or savings plans for predictable work, and automatically shutting down unused resources. Another important strategy for managing cloud costs is using a mix of different cloud providers or public and private clouds," he explained.

Speaking about cloud security, he said security issues such as stolen passwords, hacked systems and software, data breaches, and system vulnerabilities are significant risks for organisations. These risks can cause long-term damage to technology and business operations. Cloud security aims to protect data, apps, and services in the cloud from these dangers. Cloud security includes encryption, controlling access, finding threats, and following rules. Strong cloud security helps businesses keep sensitive information safe, prevent data breaches, and follow rules, he said.

BROADBAND INTERNET PROVIDER ACT FIBERNET NOW IN 30 CITIES

Fiber-focused wired broadband internet service provider ACT Fibernet has expanded its operations to seven more cities — Kanchipuram, Ghaziabad, Pollachi, Machlipatnam, Ongole, Bhimavaram, and Tadapaligudam. With broadband internet plans starting from ₹649 a month, residents of these cities can now access high-speed internet powered by fiber optic technology, the company said in a statement. The expansion introduces three different plan options across the seven cities, all offering unlimited data and subscriptions to four OTT platforms. In Kanchipuram, Machlipatnam, Ongole, Bhimavaram, and Tadapaligudam, customers can enjoy speeds of up to 40 Mbps. Ghaziabad residents have access to a plan with 50 Mbps speed, while those in Pollachi can experience speeds of 75 Mbps. With this expansion, ACT Fibernet's reach now extends to 30 cities across the country, including Delhi, Bengaluru, Chennai, Coimbatore, Hyderabad, Vijayawada, Vizag, Guntur, Nellore, Tirupati, Eluru, Rajahmundry, Kakinada, Madurai, and Warangal.

APPLE INTELLIGENCE

THE NEXT LEAP IN AI TECHNOLOGY

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AT the Worldwide Developers Conference (WWDC 2024) held this week, Apple unveiled a slew of innovative AI capabilities to enhance its device ecosystem later this year. Central to this announcement is the debut of Apple's proprietary AI model, dubbed Apple Intelligence. This cutting-edge technology harnesses user data stored on their devices to deliver personalised responses to queries.

Apple Intelligence

Apple introduces its latest innovation, Apple Intelligence, an AI system tailored for iPhone, iPad, and Mac users. This advanced technology combines generative AI models with personalised context to provide customised responses, akin to ChatGPT but with a deeper understanding of user preferences and habits. Apple Intelligence is seamlessly integrated into iOS 18, iPadOS 18, and MacOS Sequoia, leveraging the power of Apple Silicon to comprehend language, generate images, and streamline tasks across applications while prioritising security and privacy with Private Cloud Compute (PCC).

Apple Intelligence enhances user communication and writing skills with systemwide Writing Tools embedded in iOS 18, iPadOS 18, and macOS Sequoia. These tools enable users to write, rewrite, proofread, and summarise text across various platforms, such as Notes, Pages, Mails, and third-party apps. Features like 'Rewrite' offer different tone options to suit different audiences, while 'Summarise' condenses text into easily digestible formats.

In email management, Apple Intelligence simplifies tasks with features like Priority Messages, highlighting urgent emails at the top of the inbox, and Smart Reply, offering quick response suggestions. Users can also view email summaries without opening them, ensuring efficient communication. Overall, Apple Intelligence enhances user productivity and communication, making everyday tasks easier and more efficient.

Siri's Enhanced Intelligence

Siri's capabilities have evolved significantly with Apple Intelligence. Now, Siri seamlessly integrates information from various apps to provide personalized assistance. For instance, it can brief you on upcoming meetings by retrieving details from your calendar, summarizing pertinent documents from emails, and even offering weather updates to help you dress accordingly.

AI-Generated Emojis

Expressing yourself in iMessage has become even more creative with AI-generated emojis. Users can now craft their own emojis simply by typing a text prompt, and Apple Intelligence transforms it into a unique, personalized emoji. Additionally, users can generate non-photorealistic images to add a touch of fun and flair to their conversations.

OpenAI Partnership

In a groundbreaking partnership with OpenAI, Apple introduces a seamless integration with ChatGPT. When Siri recognises that a query could be better answered by ChatGPT, users have the option to tap into its vast knowledge base directly from their Apple device, ensuring they receive the most relevant and accurate information, regardless of whether they have a ChatGPT account.

Privacy Updates

Privacy remains paramount with new iPhone updates. Users can now "lock" specific apps using Face ID, Touch ID, or their passcode, ensuring sensitive information stays secure. Moreover, the ability to "hide" apps from the home screen provides an added layer of privacy, preventing any media from those apps from appearing elsewhere in the system.

Real-Time Call Transcripts

Empowering communication, iPhone users can now record and transcribe calls in real-time directly from the phone app. All parties involved are notified when a call is being recorded, ensuring transparency and consent.

WITH too much choice around, consumers struggle with information overload when it comes to decision making across the retail, travel and consumer goods industries. However, generative AI and other technologies can help consumers choose the right ones.

Accenture's recent research report titled 'The Empowered Consumer' says 76% of consumers in India feel inundated by too much choice and 74% say they are bombarded by advertising, resulting in 88% abandoning purchases in the last three months of 2023.

The report highlights an urgent need for brands to tap into the transformative power of GenAI to reduce the noise around decision-making and increase engagement, loyalty, and sales.

It says the empowerment of consumers through GenAI, other technologies, and new ways of working will shift how people think about brands. Companies can make fundamental shifts across discovery, conversion and loyalty to reinvent the decision making process and the relationships they have with consumers and the role they play in their lives. Early mover advantage will be especially important for consumer-facing companies intent on capturing value from GenAI across all parts of the business quickly, and at scale.

The research also found that 67% in India see no improvement or even see an increase in the time and effort required to make a purchase decision. This consists of the 40% who think it has got harder, and 28% who see no change and 33% think it takes less time and effort.

Accenture's report points to the challenges that consumers experience when trying to make purchase decisions. Vineet R Ahuja, managing director and lead - strategy & consulting at Accenture in India said: "Our survey shows that Indian shoppers are experiencing greater 'decision stress' at every stage of the buying journey. Consumer-facing companies will need to rethink how products and services are branded and marketed, making it easier for shoppers to navigate through the noise and make confident purchase decisions."

According to the report, consumers themselves are increasingly seeking ways to lighten the workload and are starting to see how GenAI might take on some of the leg work. The report adds that consumers are on track to adopting generative AI-powered advisors rapidly and at scale over the next two years. As much as 82% of people in India said they are open to using conversational generative AI solutions for advice, support, guidance, recommendations, and queries while shopping.
